Witness Tells of Action Against Brewery Being Stopped

"$5,000 OFFER ACCEPTED"

Probers Informed of Other Failures to Prosecute

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Continuing its inquiry into the prohibition situation in Illinois, the senate Daugherty committee today heard further charges of "tax enforcement and protection" by federal and state officers.

Bruce F. Armstrong, a prohibition agent who testified at length at yesterday's session again was on the witness stand. One of his complaints was that the Western Brewery case was not pressed on orders from the department of justice in Washington although the local investigators believed the case should be pressed.

Armstrong said he and other agents had seized eighteen half barrels of three per cent beer from the brewery and recommended prosecution. W. O. Potter, United States attorney at East St. Louis, the witness said, told him that he had instructions from the department to drop the case, and that was done.

It was stated by the secretary of the brewery company at the time, Armstrong added, that "a $5,000 offer in settlement" had been accepted by the government.

The witnesses told also of failures to prosecute in the Garden City Brewery case and of efforts made to remove him as enforcement agent because he would not "stop buying" liquor at saloons, "they did not want."

Armstrong estimated that he had reported on "one thousand to fifteen hundred" cases but never been called as a witness in a criminal case until six months ago. The cases for the most part went through "small fines" the witness said.

Asked who the federal prosecutor was in these cases, Armstrong said that United States District Attorney Clyde at Chicago, a Democratic holdover, was in office most of the time. He expressed the opinion that Clyde had been "kept in" by the Republican administration because the Chicago brewery ring "felt they could handle Charlie Clyde."

Speaking of injunction proceedings handled by Special Assistant Attorney General Middlekauff and his assistant, August Krum, Armstrong said they had conducted the case to as to delay service long enough to let the original owners "get out."

DELAIS IN CASES
The witness declared there were delays of two or three years in "closing up" these cases. He had recently been called as a witness in three year old cases "which he had almost forgotten" he added.

The Garden City Brewery case, he said, "was handled by Middlekauff."

Armstrong said that in November, 1922, Charles Kemp, his superior in the prohibition service, told him he was to be removed, adding that Homer K. Galpin, a Cook county Republican leader said "I was making too many arrests."

He made an arrangement, he said, by which I was then kept in service from month to month, but only provided that they knew in advance each saloon I was to enter.

Armstrong said he was "informed" Clyde had been forced out by pressure of the Illinois Bar Association.

Paul Howard, counsel for Harry Daugherty, interjected that Clyde had been allowed to remain until his term expired in 1922.

STONE CONFIRMED
The senate meanwhile has confirmed the nomination of Harlan F. Stone of New York, to be attorney general and all that remained today to place the department of justice again under the direction of a cabinet member was the formal signing of the new chief.

Several requests for files desired by the committee have been held up by Acting Attorney General Stone in office so that he might have an opportunity to advise the president as to the wisdom of opening these records to investigation.

AND THEN JAZZ!

After she had shot and killed Harry Kalstedt, 29, in her Chicago apartment, Mrs. Beulah Annan (above) played jazz records on the phonograph for several hours. Then she telephoned her husband.

TAX MEASURE IS REPORTED

Bill as Revised by Committee
Now Before Senate

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — The new revenue bill was ordered favorably reported to the senate today by the finance committee.

It provides, as reported, for a retroactive reduction of 25 per cent on 1923 income taxes, which are payable this year; permanent revision of the income tax rates in accordance with the plan of Secretary Mellon; a special reduction of 25 per cent in taxes on earned income and repeal of many of the miscellaneous excise taxes.

The scope of tax reduction was narrowed, however, from that provided by the house bill, warning of a treasury deficit under its terms having forced restoration of some of the miscellaneous taxes stricken out during house consideration of the measure.

The measure was ordered reported on a strictly party vote, nine to seven. Democrats announced their opposition was based on the Mellon income rates schedule carried by the bill.

The committee will be called either tomorrow or Thursday to take up the soldier bonus bill, Chairman Smoot said. He predicted not more than three days would be required to get a report on the bill.

The chairman does not expect to call the tax bill up for consideration in the senate before the middle of next week.

VETERAN WORKER TO BE AIDED

Samuel Berry, 83, Waterworks
Employee, Will Get Help

City commission Monday night received a communication from Charles Evans, superintendent of the Lima Waterworks, urging that some means be taken by the commission to provide for Samuel Berry, 83-year-old employee of the waterworks who has been in the service of the city for 35 years. A resolution was passed authorizing the city solicitor and city manager to devise some means of caring for Berry.

Following the reading of the communication, Professor Clint Richmond, who happened to be present at the meeting, spoke for a few minutes asking that it be acted on favorably.

Following by each of the commission, expressed himself in favor of aiding the aged employee of the city.

For the past few years Berry has been assigned to light tasks about the plant but infirmities of old age have finally forced him to terminate his work at the waterworks.

PAVING JOBS GO TO LOCAL CONTRACTOR

George Walther Awarded All Asphalt Street Work

BRICK GOES TO ANDREWS

Frobese to Grade and Improve
Two Dirt Thorofares

Eighteen of the 21 streets on Lima's spring paving budget will be paved by the George B. Walther Construction Co., at a cost to the city of $165,063, and the other 3 by the Andrews Asphalt Co., of Hamilton, at a cost of $22,272.

Frank Frobese received the grading job on Central-av and N. Union-st, on which he was by far the lowest bidder.

Walther was awarded all the asphalt streets, and Andrews got those to be paved with brick, although he was low bidder on 9 of the 21. Walther already has an asphalt plant in Lima, so it was decided by the commission to let him handle all that work.

Frobese's bid on the grading was $1,206.

Walther will pave sections of the following streets or avenues: McDowell, Ashton, Woodlawn, Madison, Marion, High, O'Connor, Courtlandt, Baxter, Eureka, Cole-st, Wendell, Lakewood, Belvidere, Met-calf and Murphy.

Andrews will pave portions of Hazel-av, Rice-av and Circular-st. Bids were presented to the commission Monday night by and with the recommendation by City Manager Bingham that each of the bids be awarded the lowest bidder.

This would give Walther 12 streets and Andrews 3. Cunningham moved that bids be awarded according to Bingham's recommendation. His motion was lost.

Jones moved that Walther be given the asphalt work and Andrews the brick. The motion carried and resulted in the Lima company being awarded 18 out of 21 streets.

With the jobs awarded and Walther prepared to go ahead, work on the excavating will probably begin within a week, providing the weather remains fit.

Andrews says he will start as soon as he can move his machinery to Lima.

DAUGHERTY HOME BROKEN INTO

Papers Taken from His Residence at Columbus

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Former Attorney General Daugherty said today he had been advised that his residence at Columbus, Ohio, now unoccupied had been entered by force last week, and many of his private papers rifled. Nothing of value in the house was stolen, he said, but it appeared from his advisers that some of his papers had been extracted from the files. All of them applied to his private law practice before he entered the cabinet and had been stored there in 1921.

The former attorney general did not indicate whether the matter would be called to the attention of federal or state officials.

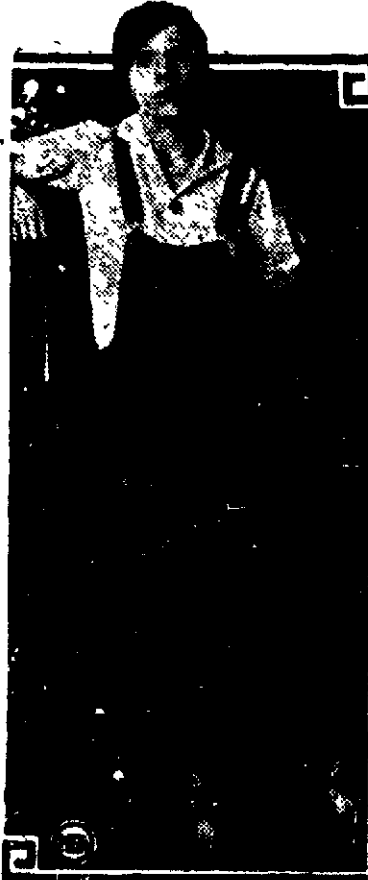

HOUSING INSPECTED
— United States deputy marshals made an inspection of the premises at the home of Harry M. Daugherty, former attorney general of the United States here today following reports from Washington that the house had been ransacked.

Deputy Garrett said no indications could be found that the house had been entered. Lacking authority, the marshals did not enter the house.

Reports here were that Daugherty had been advised by his Columbus friends that his personal files of twenty years back had been removed by persons who gained entrance to his home last Friday.

The house has been closed for some time and no one has been seen there.

Appointment Ratified by Trustees of Tuberculosis Institution

Dr. Jerome V. Pace, son of the late Dr. Jerome G. Pace, superintendent of the District tuberculosis hospital, Shawnee-tp, was appointed to head the institution by action of the board of trustees at a meeting Monday afternoon.

Dr. Pace will carry on the rehabilitation of the hospital commenced under supervision of his father. His choice was unanimously approved by trustees.

Annual report of the institution read shows a remarkable improvement in the methods of handling patients. Cures are much more rapid.

Dr. Pace, Sr., came to Lima to head the hospital from Woodman, Colo., where he was in charge of a large camp for tubercular patients.

All five counties composing the district were represented at the annual meeting of the joint board of county commissioners, which met at the hospital simultaneously with the session of the trustees.

Andrew J. Gray, Lima, was elected president of the board to succeed Walter W. Craig, whose term as commissioner will expire before the next meeting of the board. C. L. Allen, Van Wert-co, was elected secretary of the board.

The only business transacted by the board, aside from election and listening to reading of the report for the year was to reelect Col. William Shine, Shelby-co a trustee, and confirm appointment of Dr. Ayers, Celina, as trustee to succeed Senator Johnson. Appropriation of $45,000 for repairs and additions was approved.

ENGINE HITS LOCO WORKER AT CROSSING

Victim Cut by Flying Glass; Motor Car Demolished

CREW DOES NOT STOP, CLAIM

Trainmen Fail to Aid Workman
After Accident

Trapped in his automobile on Jackson-st grade crossing in the path of a Pennsylvania switch engine, Lawrence Schrock, 20, of 623 N. Jackson-st, luckily escaped death with slight injuries when his machine was demolished at 6 a. m. Tuesday when hurled to the side of the street by the heavy locomotive.

Schrock sustained slight cuts to his right leg and facial cuts from flying glass in his coupe, which he purchased Saturday. The auto is almost completely wrecked. The right side of the body is crushed, wheels broken, top caved in, axle bent and wheels crushed. The steering wheel and engine comprised the only undamaged parts of the car.

CLAIMS THRU TOP
The victim climbed thru a hole in the top of the automobile after it had been hurled across the tracks against a pole at the west side of Jackson-st crossing. The switching crew, it was reported, did not stop after the accident to ascertain the extent of injuries sustained by the victim.

Schrock was enroute to his rooming house at 623 N. Jackson-st when his machine was wrecked. He worked Monday night at the loco works. As he approached the Jackson-st crossing he did not hear the approach of the westbound switch engine until he was on the tracks in its path.

The engine hit the automobile on the right side as it was going north and knocked it across the north tracks to the northwest side of the street where it crashed into a post. After the accident it is claimed that trainmen backed the engine east over the crossing and then went west.

CONGRESSMAN J. W. LANGLEY

SIX INDICTED IN LIQUOR CASE

Congressman Among Number
Accused of Conspiracy

COVINGTON, Ky. — (Associated Press) — One of the witnesses who appeared before the federal grand jury that indicted Congressman John W. Langley and five others here yesterday in connection with alleged illegal whiskey withdrawal, was Elias H. Mortimer, New York City, whose testimony also figured in an indictment three weeks ago against Congressman Langley in Washington.

Albert P. Slater, Hiram W. Benner and Milton Lipschultz, attaches of the prohibition director's office, Philadelphia, and M. E. Huth and W. B. Barry, Canton, Ohio, were named with Congressman Langley in the Kentucky indictment. Conspiracy to defraud the government of approximately $17,640 in the withdrawal, transportation and sale of 1,400 cases of whiskey from a distillery near Lawrenceburg, Ky., October 1, 1921, was charged in three counts.

According to the indictment Huth and Barry owned the liquor. It was charged that thru Slater and Benner, the permit to remove it for medical purposes was issued in Philadelphia and brought to Kentucky by Lipschultz.

The whiskey was sold for beverage purposes the indictment set forth with a loss to the government of $120 on each of the approximately 4,200 gallons withdrawn.

The indictment alleged that Congressman Langley conspired with the other men to obtain the liquor on a permit which made its destination the Lewis Drug Co., Philadelphia.

The grand jury stated that investigation disclosed that no such company existed in Philadelphia and that the destination was fictitious.

ATTACK MADE FROM BEHIND; $83 STOLEN

Lewis Granger Lies Unconscious
for More Than an Hour

WIFE FINDS HIM ON PORCH

Police Investigating Resumption of Bandit Assaults

Reign of banditry stopped with shooting of James Clark, negro, and wholesale arrest of a gang of alleged highwaymen and burglars, broke out anew about 5 a. m. Tuesday with assault and robbery of Lewis Granger at his home, 599 S. Pine-st.

Granger was knocked unconscious on the front porch of his home by an unknown assailant who struck him down from behind with a black-jack or some blunt instrument and rifed his pockets of $83.

Mrs. Granger found her husband lying unconscious on the porch with his pockets turned inside out and a severe bruise on his head. A doctor attended the thus's victim and police are investigating the crime which is the first of its kind since J. T. Cuthbert shot Clark, who attempted to hold him up at his Market-st home.

While confined to his home, Granger said Tuesday morning that he arose about 5 a. m. and was in the kitchen of the house when he heard a knock at the front door.

STRUCK DOWN
He answered the summons and when he opened the door no one answered. He took a step forward and was struck down from behind. That is the last he remembered until half an hour after when his wife found him unconscious with the bullet in his head.

Mrs. Granger said she generally arises with her husband but Tuesday morning she overslept and was awakened about 5:30 a. m. by the Pine-st car of the Lima City Street Railway Co.

When she went down into the kitchen she saw water on the stove that her husband had placed there to heat for shaving, but she did not see her husband.

She said she noticed the front door standing ajar and when she went to close it she found her husband lying on the porch with his trouser pockets turned inside out. He was unconscious nearly half an hour after his wife found him.

Investigation put under way by police immediately after the crime was reported has brought no report from headquarters as the case presents unusual features, one of which, the thug must have been acquainted with the movements of Granger to perpetrate a daylight assault and robbery after calling a man from his home.

AGED WOMAN IS ATTACKED

Assault Confessed by Man Arrested in Indiana

LAWRENCEBURG, Ind. — (Associated Press) — Alexander C. Bailey, truck driver, who confessed last night to having had in the home of Mrs. Mary Bartholomew, 70, until she prepared for bed and then attacked her violently, was remanded to jail today in default of $10,000 bond.

Questioning by Sheriff Frank C. Winter last night elicited from Bailey the explanation that he had been drinking when he made the attack on the aged woman. He told Winter he would not have committed the crime if he had not been intoxicated.

Sheriff Winter said excitement was running high in the city and threats of mob violence had been made but that they had the situation in hand and feared no demonstration.

Mrs. Bartholomew was said to be in a grave condition. She suffered from shock and possible fracture of the skull as a result of the beating administered by Bailey.

NEW MEN AT U. S. HELM DEMANDED

Speaker Before Business Leaders Tells of Needed Change

"GOOD CITIZENS ALARMED"

Corruption Charged in Address to Hardware Dealers

NEW ORLEANS — (United Press) — Calling to the attention of the business men of the United States "our desperate need of new men and new policies to replace the pusillanimous shilly-shallying and incidental corruption which has settled down like a plague on the government of this country," Pierpont B. Noyes of Oneida, N. Y., told politics to business men today.

Noyes is a former president of the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association and also was United States Railroad Commissioner. He was addressing the joint convention of the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association and the Southern Hardware Dealers' Association.

It was stated that the address was written and delivered after consultations between Noyes and a number of prominent business men of the United States.

Noyes began his address by stating that he had some things on his mind that was in the minds of millions of people of the United States, and he believed the time had come to discuss it. He continued:

"I stated briefly and frankly, representative government is functioning very badly in the United States. It is unquestionably at the lowest point within the memory of this generation. It is too evident to every thinking American who is not hopelessly committed to some personal or party success. Everywhere I go I find a growing disgust with the ineffectiveness and paltriness and cowardice of current politics, as much as with its uncleanliness."

MORTIFIED AND ALARMED
"Good citizens are mortified and alarmed, but they should not be surprised. Whenever the responsible leaders of a people adopt a policy of dodging or postponing all serious problems, the vacuum in statesmanship thus created is automatically filled with the noisy struggles of little men for little ends and of evil passions for corruption ends. Public opinion becomes confused and loses its ability to register. The ordinary citizen relapses into a state of helpless disgust."

"That is exactly what has happened to our national politics during the past two years. Leaderless politicians, governed by fear for their political lives, have constantly shielded at every great national problem, until they have turned Washington into an arena where only the pettiest and most personal struggles are staged. Statesmanship has been abandoned. In its place ambitious, little men are fighting other ambitions, little men for personal or party gain. Public life has become infected with morbidity and hysteria."

"On the other hand, our politicians are deceiving themselves if they think the people of the United States will permanently endure this hectic atmosphere which daily fills the front pages of the newspapers with a squalid hotch-potch of political scandals and the meaningless acrobatics of self-advertising legislators. We are all tired of the hagglings and barganings which make of great issues like taxation and the gold standard, a game for partisan advantage. We are sickened by the tales of corruption in high places, and the scarcely less degrading sales to wealthy corporations of the 'influence' of men the nation has been proud to honor. We have lost interest in baby Presidential booms nursed exclusively on destructive criticism. But more than all, we resent the feverish political activity which, day by day, has crowded out discussion and action on matters of real national interest, and the cloud of oratory and selfish appeals which has for months obscured those burning problems, national and international, upon which our future prosperity depends."

A GOOD HAND—500 YEARS AGO

Five hundred years ago Englishmen played with these cards. They were found by Burton Young of Lansing, Mich., in a chest shipped him from his ancestral home in Devonshire, England. They had lain in the unopened box for more than 100 years. The cards do not carry the symbols of today, except that they show clubs—pictures of real clubs.

RIISING OIL KING LEASES MILLION ACRES OF LAND

Z. L. Doherty, politician, oil magnate, and figure in the Senate oil investigation, has told of his early adventures and how he made his first $1,000,000 in oil in earlier chapters of "How I Made My Millions." This is the eighth chapter.

(By E. L. DOHERTY)

Eventually we got the California situation well in hand, and began looking around for other fields.

Mexico was the nearest and most attractive, for there had been many stories of untold quantities of oil, some of it bubbling on the very surface of the ground. We went down to check these reports.

For a time we prospected, not on foot, as in the old days, but by comfortable train. We went along the eastern coast to Gardenas, and investigated the oil exudes in that vicinity. Then, accompanied by Mexican guides, we pushed thru the dense underbrush of the jungle, finally reaching Huasteca plain, where we came upon a pool of oil.

We went on and found one natural oil well after another in the jungle country back of Tampico. I immediately obtained leases on about 1,000,000 acres of this territory, and came home to organize a company to exploit the project. It was the most pretentious I had ever undertaken, for roads had to be built, pipe-lines laid, railways constructed, shops and warehouses erected, before the mineral wealth of the interior could be brought to the sea for export.

Yet charges have been made that we have instigated revolutions in Mexico—a land where we have sunk millions, where we would be among the principal sufferers in a time of revolt and disorder! Nonsense. Absolute nonsense.

After beginning the development of the Tampico field, we went south and turned our attention to the Tuxpan region, which produces a lighter oil.

With this further experience I became expert at securing of oil. As a friend once put it: I was developing "The supreme knowledge of being able to see into the ground." And it is in the checking of this knowledge that I get the greatest joy of my oil developments. I don't have to wait for the report on the financial end of the enterprise to get my "kick" out of it; I get it in formulating the plans and seeing them carried out.

It is a success for me when a project is started to find out if there is oil where I think it is.

For I've come to believe that the calculating of the location of oil becomes as exact a calculation as the solving of a mathematical problem.

And if a man knows his business, and has the time to select his place, there is no reason why he should ever drill a well in a dry hole.

(Copyright, 1921)
(In his next article Doherty explains his interest in government and why he "played politics.")

IMMIGRANT BILL DEBATE LIMITED

House Agrees to End Discussion at 11 O'clock Tonight

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Pressing toward a vote on the Johnson immigration bill which may come before the end of the week, the house today resumed consideration of the measure under an agreement which calls for conclusion of general debate by 11 o'clock tonight. This entails a night session.

In a race with the senate which has an immigration bill of its own differing materially from the house measure, the latter chamber went into session at 11 a. m. an hour earlier than usual. Opponents of the Johnson bill, after admitting they were outnumbered, continued their onslaught, declaring its provision from a two per cent quota based on the 1890 census discriminated against prospective immigrants from southern and southeastern Europe in favor of those from the northern and northwestern part of the continent.

The bill is designed to supplant the present three per cent immigration law based on the 1910 census which expires June 30 next.

ALL LIMA AMAZED BY PEPGEN NOW BEING INTRODUCED AT THE HUNTER'S DRUG STORES

The results being obtained every day in Lima by Pepgen, the wonder medicine for stomach, liver and kidney ailments, now being introduced at The Hunter Drug Stores, is a surprise to the oldest residents of this city.

"I did not know any medicine in the world could do the good that Pepgen has done my husband," said Mrs. Eva Shantlett of 1115 S. Metcalf Street.

"He works at The Lima Locomotive Works and the long hours and irregular times of eating his meals is what caused him to get in a run down condition."

"For the last year he complained of feeling tired and worn out all the time. He did not have any appetite and what he did eat would disagree with him."

"I tried to be very careful about what I did fix for him, but after his meals he would complain of having attacks of gas and bloating. He would have pains across the small of his back and around his heart."

"One of my friends suggested that he try this Pepgen that is being recommended by so many Lima people. I went down to Hunter's Drug Store and got him a bottle. Say, that medicine is surely fine."

"Before he was half through the first bottle I noticed he was eating better. Now he has gained about ten pounds in weight. He has a wonderful appetite and never complains of having any attacks of gas. He says he has twice as much energy as he used to have and the credit is due to Pepgen."

CAUTION: The genuine Pepgen is packed in a white and blue carton and may be obtained in Lima only at The Hunter Drug Stores, 411 Pine St. and the Argonne Store, opp. Post Office. There is a Pepgen store in every nearby town.

NEW MEN AT U. S. HELM DEMANDED

Speaker Before Business Leaders Tells of Needed Change

"GOOD CITIZENS ALARMED"

Corruption Charged in Address to Hardware Dealers

NEW ORLEANS — (United Press) — Calling to the attention of the business men of the United States "our desperate need of new men and new policies to replace the pusillanimous shilly shallying and incidental corruption which has settled down like a plague on the government of this country," Representative B. Noyes of Onondaga, N. Y., told politics to business men today.

Noyes is a former president of the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association and also was United States Representative from Onondaga. He was addressing the joint convention of the American Hardware Manufacturers' Association and the Southern Hardware Dealers' Association.

It was stated that the address was written and delivered after consultations between Noyes and a number of prominent business men of the United States.

Noyes began his address by stating that he had something on his mind that was in the minds of millions of people of the United States, and he believed the time had come to discuss it. He continued: "I stated briefly and frankly, representative government is functioning very badly in the United States. It is unquestionably at the lowest point within the memory of this generation. We may as well acknowledge this. It is too evident to every thinking American who is not hopelessly committed to some personal or party success. Everywhere I go I find a growing disgust with the ineffectiveness and paltriness and cowardice of current politics, as much as with its uncleanliness."

MORTIFIED AND ALARMED

"Good citizens are mortified and alarmed, but they should not be surprised. Whenever the responsible leaders of a people adopt a policy of dodging or postponing all serious problems, the vacuum in statesmanship thus created is automatically filled with the noisy struggles of little men for little ends and of corrupt men for corrupt ends. Public opinion becomes confused and loses its ability to register. The ordinary citizen relapses into a state of helpless disgust."

"That is exactly what has happened to our national politics during the past two years. Leaderless politicians, governed by fear for their political lives, have consistently shied at every great national problem, until they have turned Washington into an arena where only the pettish and most personal struggles are staged. Statesmanship has atrophied. In its place ambitious, little men are fighting other ambitions, little men for personal or party gain. Public life has become infected with morbidity and hysteria."

"On the other hand, our politicians are deceiving themselves if they think the people of the United States will permanently endure this hectic atmosphere which daily fills the front pages of the newspapers with a squalid hotch-potch of political scandals and the meaningless acrobatics of self-advertising legislators. We are all tired of the baggages and bargains which make of great issues like taxation and the soldiers' bonus footballs in a game for partisan advantage. We are sickened by the tales of corruption in high places, and the scarcely less degrading sales to wealthy corporations of the 'influence' of men the nation has been proud to honor. We have lost interest in baby Presidential booms nursed exclusively on destructive criticism. But more than all, we resent the feverish political activity which, day by day, has crowded out discussion and action on matters of real national interest, and the cloud of oratory and selfish appeals which has for months obscured those burning problems, national and international, upon which our future prosperity depends."

A GOOD HAND—500 YEARS AGO

Five hundred years ago Englishmen played with these cards. They were found by Burton Young of Lansing, Mich., in a chest shipped him from his ancestral home in Devonshire, England. They had lain in the unopened box for more than 100 years. The cards do not carry the symbols of today, except that they show clubs—pictures of real clubs.

RIISING OIL KING LEASES MILLION ACRES OF LAND

E. L. Doherty, politician, oil magnate, and figure in the Senate oil investigation, has told of his early adventures and how he made his first $1,000,000 in oil in earlier chapters of "How I Made My Millions." This is the eighth chapter.

(By E. L. DOHERTY)

Eventually we got the California situation well in hand, and began looking around for other fields.

Mexico was the nearest and most attractive, for there had been many stories of untold quantities of oil, some of it bubbling on the very surface of the ground. We went down to check these reports.

For a time we prospected, not on foot, as in the old days, but by comfortable train. We went along the eastern coast to Gardenas, and investigated the oil exudes in that vicinity. Then, accompanied by Mexican guides, we pushed thru the dense underbrush of the jungle, finally reaching Huasteca plain, where we came upon a pool of oil.

We went on and found one natural oil well after another in that jungle country back of Tampico.

I immediately obtained leases on about 1,000,000 acres of this territory, and came home to organize a company to exploit the project. It was the most pretentious I had ever undertaken, for roads had to be built, pipe-lines laid, railways constructed, shops and warehouses erected, and a myriad other details arranged, before the mineral wealth of the interior could be brought to the sea for export.

Yet charges have been made that we have instigated revolutions in Mexico—a land where we have sunk millions, where we would be among the principal sufferers in a time of revolt and disorder! Nonsense! Absolute nonsense.

After beginning the development of the Tampico field, we went south and turned our attention to the Tuxpan region, which produces a lighter oil.

With this further experience I became expert at sensing of oil. As a friend once put it: "I was developing 'The supreme knowledge of being able to see into the ground.'"

And it is in the checking of this knowledge that I got the greatest joy of my oil developments. I don't have to wait for the report on the financial end of the enterprise to get my "kick" out of it; I get it in formulating the plans and seeing them carried out.

It is a success for me when a project is started to find out if there is oil where I think it is.

For I've come to believe that the calculating of the location of oil becomes as exact a calculation as the solving of a mathematical problem.

And if a man knows his business, and has the time to select his place, there is no reason why he should ever drill a well in a dry hole.

(In his next article Doherty explains his interest in government and why he "played politics.")

IMMIGRANT BILL DEBATE LIMITED

House Agrees to End Discussion at 11 O'clock Tonight

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Pressing toward a vote on the Johnson immigration bill which may come before the end of the week, the house today resumed consideration of the measure under an agreement which calls for conclusion of general debate by 11 o'clock tonight. This entails a night session.

In a race with the senate which has an immigration bill of its own differing materially from the house measure, the latter chamber went into session at 11 a. m. an hour earlier than usual. Opponents of the Johnson bill, altho admitting they were outnumbered, continued their onslaught, declaring its provision from a two per cent quota based on the 1890 census discriminated against prospective immigrants from southern and southeastern Europe in favor of those from the northern and northwestern part of the continent.

The bill is designed to supplant the present three per cent immigration law based on the 1810 census which expires June 30 next.

MISSING U. S. NAVY PAYMASTER IS FOUND

ACCOUNTS SHORT $120,000

Discovered on Driveway of Park at Frisco

BELIEVED TO BE DEMENTED

Disappeared from Mobile, Ala., March 19

SAN FRANCISCO — (United Press)—Lieutenant Evelyn K. Brown, United States navy paymaster, $120,000 short in his accounts, was lying on a cot in Emergency Hospital here today, either violently insane or feigning insanity. He was found last night lying on a driveway in Golden Gate Park, apparently demented.

Taken to the hospital, he was identified as Brown by a roll of $1,200 in bills found on his person, by a picture found in his pocket of Mrs. Daisy Brown, who restored $75,000 of the stolen money to naval officers; by a scar on one finger and by the head of a "Gibson girl" tattooed on his left shoulder, after the manner of the era.

Today navy officers came with records to the hospital and announced the identification was positive.

"Am I absolutely identified, then?" Brown asked, seeming to recover from his delirium.

"Yes," said the detective. "Then what's the use talking to you," replied Brown, and he lapsed back into his demented state.

EYES BLOODSHOT
Brown was dressed in citizen's clothing when found. His face was drawn and his eyes bloodshot. He plainly showed effects of great mental strain if not insanity.

Brown had been living at the boarding house of Mrs. H. G. Richardson here. He claimed he came here from the east to spend a month in California and that he would locate here if he liked the city. He gave the name of "Wilson," Mrs. Richardson said.

Lieutenant Brown disappeared at Mobile, Ala., March 19.

Physicians who examined the man after he fought with attendants at the detention hospital, until they were forced to strap him to a cot, asserted they were convinced that he feigned insanity. City detectives found Brown lying on one of the drives in Golden Gate Park. They held him for observation, believing he was a victim of amnesia.

Brown, after disappearing from his ship at Mobile, travelled up the Atlantic coast, visiting New York, Newport, Cleveland and other eastern cities, spending large sums of money. He came to San Francisco, where he met his wife. He summoned her to a hotel where he was staying. She pleaded all of one night with him to surrender. When he refused she obtained possession of a satchel in which he carried $75,000 and accompanied by Brown's mother, drove an automobile to San Diego, where she turned the money over to naval officials.

Brown died before officers could reach the hotel. The fugitive has been warned by newspaper stories the search by federal and state officials for him had centered in Los Angeles.

Police were notified at 7:30 last night, that a man was lying, apparently crazed, in the park roadway. He was picked up and taken to the detention hospital.

In an apparently rational moment, he told attendants that he lived at an address which proved to be a boarding house.

The landlady said the man had told her his name was "Wilson" and that he had acted queerly. She said he appeared anxious for solitude, once admitting he had a large sum of money he didn't want to lose. He rebuffed advances of other roomers and complained repeatedly of being ill.

"He told me he couldn't eat anything," the woman said, "and I thought he was crazy."

A scar on the man's index finger, was the next step in the identification after the picture of the woman had been identified as that of the missing officer's wife.

"Gibson girl" tattoo on one shoulder, also proved to be one of the marks by which the officer might be known.

NIGHT CLASS SCHOLARS

AWARDED ESSAY PRIZES

Joseph Sens, R. D. 4 and George Hodostko, of 330 N. Jameson-av. were awarded first prizes for writing the best essays on "Why I Prefer American Citizenship to That of My Own Country" in a contest held by the Foreigners' class of the night school.

Prizes were given by the Americanization committee of the D. A. R., of which Mrs. E. C. Paul is chairman. Other seven members of the class were given pocket dictionaries as an appreciation of their efforts during the semester. Mrs. D. A. Sullivan, Mrs. F. G. Borges and Mrs. J. C. Pence acted as judges. Rev. A. A. Thomas and R. W. Huff had charge of the class.

BOOZE PRODUCED BY MACHINE

LONDON — (Associated Press)—It is reported that the passenger airplane between Manchester at Belfast, each carry a slot machine from which passengers can withdraw a small bottle of whisky, one of soda water and a glass for two shillings six pence.

The licensing authorities are trying to figure out when it will be legal to operate this refreshment dispensing device, whether on the ground, in the air or at what point on the flight, and accordingly what taxes to levy.

Mainly About People

Mrs. Meyer Cohn and children, Evelyn Irving, have returned to their home in Cleveland, after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. M. Cohn, W. Wayne-st. Mrs. Cohn is popular among radio fans, having broadcast from several stations. She is a widely known vocal soloist.

Monday was rest night for the Stewart evangelists at South Side Church of Christ. Services will be resumed Tuesday night, however, and will continue nightly until Easter Sunday, with the exception of Monday, April 14.

Report on the outcome of the first county teachers examination held last week at Central H. school will probably be made Saturday. C. A. Arganbright, superintendent of county schools, said Monday. The second examination will be given late in May, he said.

Lawrence Barnes, of 300 S. Jackson-st. was removed to the District tuberculosis hospital Monday in the Eckert ambulance. He was employed as a draftsman at the Lima Locomotive Works. Barnes' wife was taken to the same hospital a month ago.

Superintendent Not Named from Eligible List

NEW CANDIDATES SOUGHT

Mrs. Walters Takes Charge After Death of Husband

Decision as to whether a successor to the late Charles W. Walters, former superintendent of the Allen-co children's home, should be chosen from an eligible list two years old or a new examination held, will be made Tuesday afternoon at a conference of county commissioners and home trustees.

Commissioners are seeking to set aside the old eligible list furnished by the state civil service board and call a new examination, it is stated.

A new examination, it is pointed out, will bring out new timber and perhaps result in getting a better selection.

Many of the nine persons on the eligible list, it is stated, are not now interested in the position.

STATE TO PROBE FIRE ORIGIN

Oil Soaked Rags Found Stacked Against Building

According to those persons who first reached the scene the conflagration, a quantity of oil-soaked pieces of cloth were found, pointing they say, to incendiarism.

COUNCIL MEETING MONDAY

City Against Crossing Dangers; New Policeman Needed

DELPHOS — City council will have their regular meeting at the City Building Tuesday night, and a busy session is expected. The resolution that City Solicitor W. S. Kimball was authorized to draw up regarding the protection of the people against railroad crossings in and about the city of Delphos is pending.

This resolution will more than likely be presented to the State Utilities Commission for investigation, and action by them will be asked by the council and the citizens.

That an extra police officer will be put on the force in July is a probability, and is backed by Mayor G. N. Leasure, who asserts that such a man would pay for himself in a short time. "Auto and tourist season is just opening up, and the law here is to be enforced to its full extent," he said.

3 GIRLS BRANDED

Made Part of Initiation Into School Society

NEW YORK — (United Press) — Three girls are wearing the mystic symbols of a Brooklyn high school sorority, Delta Kappa Gamma, on their faces today, as school authorities and their parents investigate an April fool initiation in which the neophytes were branded with a solution of nitrate of silver.

The girls are Mildred Helwig, Helen Chapman and Helen Steingester. Miss Helwig is a high school graduate and now attends a business college. The latter two are seniors in Erasmus high school.

All needed medical attention after the branding and physicians feared some of them might bear permanent marks as results of the initiation.

Miss Alice Norton, president of the sorority, was reported "quite ill" as result of the whole affair. She presided at the initiation. It was supposed the silver solution was made too strong, causing burns instead of the light markings intended.

DISPLAY SPACE SCARCE FOR INDUSTRIAL SHOWS

Manufacturers are clamoring for more space than is available at the industrial display which is being placed in the basement of the Akron hotel. Practically all Lima industries will be represented at the display, which is being sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's club.

After the opening, which will be as soon as the spaces are properly allotted, the display will remain permanently. Requests for space are being received from many out-of-town merchants.

VAN WERT BRIEFS

Henry F. Alth, 64, prominent citizen of Van Wert, and well-known employee of the Cincinnati Northern railroad shops, died Saturday at his home on Middle-st. He has worked at the shops for the last 18 years. He had suffered with ill health for nearly two years preceding his death.

Y. M. C. A. banquet will be held on April 22. Harry M. Holmes has been engaged as the speaker for the evening. The committee was congratulated by I. B. Rhodes, state secretary of Ohio, for securing the services of such an interesting speaker.

Judge H. W. Blashly announced late Tuesday that he would render his decisions on seven liquor cases brought up on error proceedings from Mayor H. A. Lee's court.

Dame observation has another mark to her credit in the form of a reporter who wrote an article on the first tourist campers of the season in the city. Following the story, a Kenton man telephoned the newspaper office that his wife had run away with another man, and gave a description of the pair. It conformed with the observer's description and has put the Kenton man on the right track to the solution of his domestic trouble.

William C. Leathers, 62, owner of fur company, and formerly prominent in agricultural circles in Ridge township, died Sunday after an illness of about two weeks.

Meeting of the merchant committee of the Clearing House met Monday afternoon and perfected plans for the Spring Style Show to be held in front of the court house on an open air stage April 9, 10 and 11.

Permit from the Van Wert police is necessary before dumping of tin cans and rubbish can be done at the city dump. This was proven by the predicament of a man who attempted to dump without a permit, and before finishing, he endured untold hardships and chagrin.

SCHOOL CLASSES TO SEE IRON INDUSTRY PICTURE

DELPHOS — Junior and Senior High school will be entertained at the local auditorium on Wednesday morning when the film on the manufacture of ingot iron will be shown. This film will be exceedingly interesting and instructive to the chemical physics classes, as the students at this time are working on the formulas connected with the manufacture of iron, and metallic combinations.

Whole iron industry and its treatment will be shown. Its evolution up until the present day. That it is the most useful one ever discovered will be proved by the picture.

RIDGE HIGH SENIORS TO GIVE THREE ACT COMEDY

DELPHOS — "The District Attorney" is the play that has been chosen by the Seniors in Ridge high school, and will be given there Thursday and Friday night, April 10 and 11. The three-act comedy is being directed by J. Val Faudree. HI SCHOOL NOTES OF INTEREST

Penmanship Diplomas Received; Program Entertains

DELPHOS — Students of Junior High are doing well in the writing department, under the supervision of Miss Nell McMahon, who has charge of the Palmer penmanship at Delphos High School.

Records here show that 48 out of 46 students have received diplomas from the Palmer Institute, Chicago. The other students have received commendations and it is probable that they will receive diplomas in the near future.

These certificates will be presented in June during the Commencement exercises. Together with those that received diplomas in this course last year, more than half of the Junior High school have now qualified for membership in the Palmer method.

DELPHOS — Beginning with the annual literary program, St. Johns High school will open up with Spring activities, to be followed soon with Senior orations. The program was given at 2 p. m. Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium and lasted the remainder of the day. "Sing a Merry Song," which was sung by the whole senior class was extremely good.

Most of the program expounded the works of Shakespeare, and the characterization of his plays, and the talent of his drama.

Readings and musical numbers were also included in the program. "Appreciation of Literature," by Rita Bokey; "Literature of the Bible," Ruth Altenburger; "Narrative of Shakespeare," Gilbert Stalkamp; "The Dramatic Shakespeare's Time," Urban Patton; "The Drama in the Church," Mellona Wahmoff; "When the Spring Comes On," Senior Class; "Shakespeare, the Portrait Painter of the Human Soul," Valeria Thines; "The Tragedy of Hamlet," Margaret Harter; "Dreamy Melody," Solo by Mellona Wahmoff; "The Ghost," Richard Odenweller; "Character Interpretation in Hamlet," Richard Ricker; "A Psychological Study of Hamlet," Regina Haunhorst; "Thanatopsis Voiced in Hamlet," Ethel German.

The program was well arranged in that musical numbers were given at the time to set off the readings and monologues, and at no time was the entertainment monotonous. Much of the skill shown in all the parts may be credited to the constant and attentive supervision of Sister M. Josephine, principal of St. Johns High.

Sister M. Josephine who had charge announced that another literary program would be given later in the season.

TIN GOES UP

LONDON — Tin now is more than $1,000 a ton, against only $600 a few years ago. In other words, there is quite a boom in it. An enormous demand is reported to exist for the metal, and it is expected to go higher, as the United States produces none of its own and buys heavily of England.

This will be one of the big social events of the season for Van Wert. Local ladies who are members will take part in the initiatory work and the ceremony of draping the altar in the afternoon and a team from the local Review will present a drill at the public session in the evening.

Wednesday evening the Business Women's association will have an interesting meeting when Mrs. E. E. Taylor, president of the Lima Federation of Women's clubs, will address the local society after dinner at the Beckman Hotel. Current topics of interest to women will be the topic on which Mrs. Taylor will speak. "Railroads" will be the subject upon which Miss Mildred Murray, employe in the office of Trainmaster Druekmiller, Clover Leaf Railroad, Delphos, will speak.

Community singing will also be held besides other musical numbers that have been arranged for. Reservations for the dinner are to be made at the Bon-Net Shop not later than the morning upon which the affair will take place.

AMERICA LOSING BRAZIL TRADE

England Grasps Opportunity and Meets With Success

ADVERTISING IS NEEDED

Board of Commerce Organizes to Regain Prestige

(By U. G. KEEFER)

RIO DE JANEIRO — (United Press) — American business men in Brazil, according to a report from the American Chamber of Commerce in Brazil, are at last feeling the effects of their mistake in failing to carry out any kind of program of organized propaganda for their products. Now, however, they are organizing a campaign for effective advertising of their wares.

The American Chamber of Commerce for Brazil has appointed a propaganda committee whose duty it is to bring to the attention of Brazilians what Americans have done towards development of this country and what America still has to offer Brazil to assist her in further development.

The necessity of such a campaign was brought home to Americans by the British Financial Mission, which has been in Brazil since the first of the year making a study of economic conditions and industries in Brazil and, at the same time, putting in a word now and then for British businessmen.

BRITISH MISSION A SUCCESS
Due to the investigation of Brazilian financial and economic conditions by this important commission, it is generally believed a Brazilian loan will soon be floated in England, which will probably be a funding loan consolidating all of Brazil's foreign indebtedness.

Americans forecast that such a loan would have certain strings tied to it, and that British industrial interests in Brazil would be given certain concessions in recognition of this help. With the operation of the British Mission here the newspapers have been full of its activities and as a consequence much confidence is being placed in the ability of English financial experts and in British generally.

Americans have witnessed a great change in Brazil's international trade during the past two years, a change to the advantage of England at the expense of the United States. During the five years ending with 1922 Brazilian imports from the United States amounted to a total value of 138,555,947 pounds, as compared with only 75,677,889 pounds from Great Britain. Brazilian exports for the same period of five years to the United States were valued at 168,475,300 pounds and to Great Britain only 25,297,300 pounds. Since 1922 these figures have been changed, and imports into this country from the United States now fall far below the total value of merchandise received from Great Britain. The United States, however, remains as Brazil's principal buyer, due to the large consumption of Brazilian coffee.

So far, Americans in Brazil have not lived up to the reputation of being the world's greatest advertisers. American firms operating in this country do some advertising, but so far there has been a sad lack of good organized propaganda for their products.

On the other hand, British, French, German, Italian and Portuguese importers, assisted by their respective Governments, have carried on well organized propaganda for many years.

MUSIC TEACHERS ANNUAL MEETING AT CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI — Three thousand music teachers in the public schools of the nation will themselves go to music school here during the annual meeting of the Music Supervisors' National Conference, April 7-11. Leading authorities on vocal and instrumental music are on the program.

Among the features will be a chorus composed of 500 singing teachers and a symphony orchestra of 70 pieces, each member is a musical director.

As two-thirds of the teachers are young persons, a dance has been arranged for their special benefit. They will dance the fox trot, but there will be no jazz on the program. They say they are not opposed to the syncopated time, but do object to the "unearthly din" produced under the name of jazz. Every state will be represented by the visitors.

"YOU BET I'D BOB MY HAIR AND SMOKE CIGARETS IF I WAS 90 YEARS YOUNGER," SAYS MOTHER OF 12

"Modern Girl is All Right" Says Mrs. Power, 114

DEFENDS "NEW FREEDOM"

Aged Woman Says Sex Today Commands Appreciation

FOR WORTH, Tex. — (Special) —

Mrs. M. J. Power has lived 114 years, and she says:

"The modern girl is all right. In my day we women worked too hard, we had too many children, and we lived too much. Girls are exactly right in enjoying their independence from bondage."

"In my day, didn't appreciate sex. But I calculate they sit up and take notice of the women today."

"If I could live again you bet I'd bob my hair and smoke cigarettes. Girls will live longer if they smoke. What's all this hullabaloo about tobacco hurting women. It's good to kill germs."

Some of Mrs. Power's 12 children died in infancy, and the mother who bore so many has forgotten a few of their names. She has 44 grandchildren and 50 great-grandchildren, but she doesn't know where they live nor how many there are.

Mrs. Power came down the Mississippi river in a flat-bottom boat 164 years ago and came up to Texas from Louisiana in a prairie schooner. She has lived for years in the same house.

"The only money I ever had of my own was in the spring when I took my basket of butter and eggs to the store and sold them. I always got that money and I was as proud as a queen."

She admitted that she usually went to the dry goods store and bought something for the children with the money.

Romance may be tottering in this present age and the modern girl may be a practical sort of person and the idealists may prate about old-fashioned romance, but Mrs. Power shatters all their illusions about the girl of the previous age.

"We didn't have no time for such foolishness as engagement rings. That was all nonsense stuff."

"I never had pretty white hands. I used to try to keep them that way but it wasn't no use. From the time I was 10 years old I had to drive a team of oxen all day clearing land."

"After I was married I had to keep on doing the same thing. Maybe that's why I'm so glad to see women havin' a little chance to live these days."

PARK PLAN GETS BOOST HERE

Realtors Association Recommends Paving and Playground

Paving of the street on the North side of the Ottawa river, connecting the Collett bridge with the Speareville road, together with the purchase of the immediate land on that side of the river for park purposes was approved and recommended in a communication to the city commission from the Lima Realtors association, read to the commission Monday night.

Commissioner Jones expressed himself as being heartily in accord with the realtors in the matter. The commission voted that the communication be received and placed on file.

JEALOUSY GUARDED
MANCHESTER, Eng. — The great seal of England, of which Lord Haldane again becomes custodian, has had several strange adventures. Besides being stolen and thrown into rivers, it was once buried to escape being burned. In 1812 Lord Chancellor Eldon's house took fire and he rushed away with the seal and buried it in the garden. The next morning he could not remember where he had buried it and the family had to poke the garden with sticks before it was located.

LIMA FOUNDRY IS FIRE SCENE

Loss Estimated at $200; Roof Blaze from Cupola

Fire originating from a cupola caused property damage estimated at $200 at the Lima Foundries Co., E. McKibben-st., Monday evening.

Three companies answered at the call at 6:56 p. m. and extinguished the blaze which was confined to the roof adjacent to the cupola.

Four hours later a still alarm from the foundry caused a second run by firemen who extinguished a fire on wooden flasks.

Damage estimated at $5 was caused by a roof fire at the home of Thomas Shriver, 908 Albert-st., Monday night.

Commissioner Jones expressed himself as being heartily in accord with the realtors in the matter. The commission voted that the communication be received and placed on file.

Hiram Johnson Runs Far Behind in Michigan Primary

FORD IS AHEAD OF FERRIS

States of Illinois and Nebraska Are Voting Today

DETROIT — (Associated Press) Calvin Coolidge won a sweeping victory in Michigan yesterday. Returns from 1,847 of the state's 3,800 precincts at 11:30 o'clock this morning gave him a lead of 86,198 over Senator Hiram W. Johnson for Republican primary.

Henry Ford continued to hold a large advantage over Senator Woodbridge N. Ferris, for the Democratic preference, the vote from 1,000 precincts showing Ford 27,399; Ferris 24,167.

The closest contest developed in the voting was between Mrs. Etta C. B. Wood and Mrs. Evelyn S. Merriam, candidates for a place on the Democratic national committee. On 1,500 votes separated the two women with 1,907 precincts tabulated the advantage being with Mrs. B. Wood.

The more populous centers—Detroit, Grand Rapids, and Flint—failed to prove the Johnson strongholds claimed for them and all yielded substantial pluralities for Coolidge. The rural sections and the upper peninsula were overwhelmingly in favor of the president.

The close contest between Ford and Ferris has a parallel in the race for a place on the Democratic national committee. The women candidates Mrs. Etta C. B. Wood and Mrs. Evelyn S. Merriam being separated by only 250 votes.

ILLINOIS VOTING

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) Interest in national politics centers today on the Illinois primary in which President Coolidge and Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California make their bid for sixty-one delegates to the Republican national convention.

Overshadowing the presidential contest in the state interest, however, is the race between Governor Len Small and Charles W. Essington, state senators for the Republican gubernatorial nomination, which has developed possibly the bitterest factional struggle in the state's history.

A vote is expected.

William O. McAdoo, unopposed for Democratic presidential preference is indirectly involved in the sharpest division in the Democratic ranks in recent years. A full list of avowed McAdoo delegates is expected by a solid array of non-preference delegates openly pledged to the leadership of George E. DeLoach, state Democratic chief.

NEBRASKA BALLOTING

OMAHA, Neb. — (Associated Press) President Calvin Coolidge and Senator Hiram W. Johnson of California are seeking Nebraska endorsement for the Republican presidential nomination and the national delegates to the national convention. The name of no Democratic candidate for presidential preference appears on the ballots at black spaces have been left for voters to write in names.

Second in interest only to the Coolidge-Johnson contest is the fight between Senator George W. Norris, chairman of the senate agricultural committee, and Charles H. Sloan, former congressman, for the Republican senatorial nomination.

Beauty Bobbers Get Verdict In Court Decision

SEATTLE, Wash. — (Associated Press) Whether a hobbler is a hobbler or a question that has disturbed the state of Washington since the legislature a year ago enacted that a hobbler must have licenses, evoked the classic when a case reached Judge J. T. Ronald in superior court last on appeal from the justice court.

Beauty parlors, like baseball, are becoming a national amusement. Judge Ronald remarked in ruling that hobbler need not be licensed barbers.

The lawyers having dealt with cases of Samson and Delilah, the judge brought out some lines from Milton and other poets. Lamenting the modern spirit of woman, which has robbed her of her chief charm to make wigs and toupees, he said the court yet admonished her to be a hobbler.

"Then cease bright nymph, to mourn thy ravished hair,
Which adds new glory to the shining sphere."
Perhaps, mused the judicial mind it made itself up, Anna Ladson, low locks William Hoffman, ungodly hobbler in a beauty parlor, had long, loose hair flung the around her head," or perhaps:
"There a beautiful mist falling down to her waist,
And jeweled and braided
After all the court concluded, the police workers ought to be to learn the jokes to pass them on as barbers.

IMPROVEMENT OF STREETS TAKEN UP BY COMMISSION

Resolutions for the sewerage of streets and the paving of 3 more streets adopted by the City Commission Monday night.

The paving of Murphy-st, Jackson-st and Union was asked in the solutions.

Ordinances were also passed providing for the improvement of way-av from Bellefontaine-st to Second, and of Park-av from High-st to North-st.

ROCKEFELLER LIVES HIS RELIGION, OIL KING'S GOLF PARTNER THINKS

"I Have Never Known Another Man Like Him," Asserts Civil War Veteran

GAME IMPROVES WITH AGE

Gen. Ames Sees Friend As One Who Gets Greatest Joy Out of Giving

ORMOND BEACH, Fla.—(Special)—Here's an intimate glimpse of John D. Rockefeller, Sr. It is made by Maj. Gen. Adelbert Ames, his daily golfing partner and one of his closest friends.

Few other men have had the opportunity to get to know the multi-millionaire philanthropist as has this Civil War veteran. For the two have played their game here during the winter practically every day—but Sunday—for the past eight years.

"Mr. Rockefeller," says Gen. Ames, "is a very amiable, very conscientious, and a very lovable man. He has a conscience. He goes to church and he carries out the religion in his life. He is the only man I have ever known who fully lives up to his church beliefs. I have never known another man like him. He is a very fine man to know and be with."

"He has a deep sense of humor and is very entertaining. Here's a story that he told me the other day: 'A young girl, in her first love affair, received her first kiss and, much perturbed, decided to confess the fact to her mother. The mother was much amused.

"Ah, only once?" she asked raising an admonishing finger. The young girl was equal to the occasion.

"I came to confess, not to boast," she replied.

THOSE OLD FELLOWS

The general chuckled and went on:

"The other day Mr. Rockefeller said to me: 'Just think of those old fellows.' He had in mind men that you see all stooped over at 60, with gray faces. Men who do not take care of themselves. He calls them old men, and we both think of them as old men. Yet both he and I are far older than 60."

Gen. Ames is 83; Rockefeller is 84.

"Mr. Rockefeller plays a wonderful game for his age," says his companion, "and I think he is playing better this year than for the last few years past. He plays the first nine holes around 50 strokes."

Watching Rockefeller play, the writer saw him make four or five shots in the neighborhood of 150 yards. He addresses the ball very carefully with a long, low drive that raises it about 30 feet above the ground in the last third of its flight.

"Golf," continued the general, "has been a wonderful thing for Rockefeller and it is marvelous in the way he has persisted in it. He has really fought his way back to health and many another man can do the same thing."

JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER ON THE GOLF LINKS AND (LEFT) MAJ. GEN. ADELBERT AMES, HIS GOLFING PARTNER.

"Mr. Rockefeller holds himself very well. I am erect because I have had a military training. But Rockefeller holds himself just as well, as he has always been a civilian and has a civilian carriage. His shoulders are very broad and may give him the appearance of being stooped-shouldered. But his body is held straight."

HELPS HUMANITY

"Perhaps Mr. Rockefeller realizes," it was suggested, "that people now think kindly of him. They realize what he is trying to do to help humanity."

"I think he does sense a kinder spirit," replied the general. "Yet people envy wealthy men. You and I, speaking generally, envy the man who has more than we have. But great happiness is not found in wealth. Ninety-nine men struggle to live. The hundredth, the great genius, becomes wealthy. Yet he is not as happy as those who are obliged to struggle. Mr. Rockefeller finds happiness in giving."

The golf links here might almost be called a constellation of millionaires. Round about are Frank Hedley, of the Interborough in New York; F. W. Rice, Jr., president of the General Electric; Albert Dice, president of the Philadelphia & Reading railway; Charles Elliott, secretary of the Westinghouse Electric Co.; Paul Thompson, president of the Philadelphia Gas & Electric Co., a former president of the Pullman Co., and all sorts of directors and chairmen of boards of directors.

But the eyes of these men and of the caddies often drift to watch a slight man of military bearing, and a tall broad-shouldered man wearing a brown cap and coat and with neatly pressed trousers. It is General Ames and Mr. Rockefeller golfing.

"The old gentleman is playing great golf today," observes a spectator.

"Aw, he's done-give away more money than Henry Ford even had," says a colored caddy.

But the two old cronies genially go their way, with a welcome for everyone.

EX-MINISTER ACCUSED IN KILLING OF AMERICANS

ROME — A former minister of Albania is declared to have been involved in the plot that resulted in the murder of two American business men on the Tirana-Scutari highway Sunday. The purpose is said to have been to embarrass Albania in its relations with the league of nations on the subject of boundaries.

The Albanian legation here said martial law had been declared and an inquiry opened.

The Americans, Robert Lewis Coleman of San Francisco and George DeLong, of New York, were at first supposed to have been victims of highwaymen.

NICE FOR DOGGIE

LONDON. — The Countess of Kimberley owns the smallest dog in London, a Mexican hairless terrier, weighing less than half a pound.

"I take him to have his paws manicured occasionally," says Lady Kimberley. "He is especially fond of bronze silk stockings, when he sees them."

An ordinance providing for the payment of $1,000 of the city auditor's salary from the income of the waterworks department was passed by the commission Monday night.

This announcement was made by Captain Wilkinson Tuesday following receipt of orders from Salvation Army headquarters. It is understood that the record for achievement in Lima had much to do with the promotion.

Sunday morning Captain Wilkinson will hold his final meeting at the Allen-co jail. The band which he organized here will furnish music and inmates of the prison are arranging a special feature of the meeting. This is being kept a secret by them.

Sunday evening the farewell service will be held and at this meeting Wilkinson will take formal leave of his workers and friends here.

McGAHAN BACK IN PENITENTIARY
Bank Bandit Begins Second Term in Columbus Prison
MUST SERVE 15 YEARS
Taken to the State Capital Under Heavy Guard

COLUMBUS — (Associated Press) — George "Red" McGahan, notorious bank bandit, is going to be a model prisoner for "he is well disciplined, knows that he must obey and will not cause trouble," Warden P. E. Thomas said today, following McGahan's reception at the state institution last night to serve a sentence of fifteen years for the hold-up of the West Carrollton bank.
McGahan, who was captured in Marietta, tried and convicted in Montgomery-co., was brought to the penitentiary under a heavy guard. While McGahan is eligible for parole in one year a recommendation in his sentence that "a parole be not granted," will forestall any efforts at release, prison officials said today.
McGahan served eight years of a ten year sentence in the Ohio penitentiary a number of years ago, being released in 1915. He also served a term in the Ohio reformatory.
A writ of habeas corpus filed in federal court was denied Monday at Dayton. It was asked on the ground that McGahan was a federal prisoner and not under the jurisdiction of state courts.

FOREMEN'S CLUB SPEAKER HAS EXCEPTIONAL RECORD
Sherman Rogers, the lumberjack orator, who will address the Lima Foreman's club on the subject "Leaders vs. Drivers," at the Elks home Wednesday night, April 16, was one of two outstanding speakers at the Rotary International convention in St. Louis last year. Edgar Guest, the famous poet, was the second of the pair.
Everywhere Rogers goes he is greeted by big audiences. He recently spoke in Fort Wayne at the temple theatre before a large crowd. At Hamilton, when talking before the chamber of commerce of that city, a large audience heard him. He once addressed the New York State Chamber of Commerce at the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City.
It is said Rogers has the speakers' gift of walking rough-shod over the audience and "making them like it."
This meeting of the club, the last of the year, is open to all men in the city. Business men and manufacturers are especially invited.

CLIMALENE
cleans pots and pans—the most disagreeable part of dishwashing

CLEANING FINE FABRICS
For lace, delicate chiffons, crepes, etc., use warm water to which a little Climalene has been added, and pure white soap. Do not rub the clothes but cleanse by dipping up and down repeatedly, thus flushing the water through the fabric.

WASHING WINDOWS
Whatever method you prefer in washing windows, a pinch of Climalene in a basin or a teaspoonful in a pail of water will reduce the work by half. Makes the windows shine.

GREASE and grime, the bugbears of dishwashing, are bugbears no more. Climalene instantly "breaks" the hardest water, transforms it into rainwater softness, and quickly cuts the grease on pots and pans.
Greasy utensils such as skillets and roasters, scorched and badly burnt baking dishes and casseroles are quickly and easily cleaned without scouring by soaking in hot water to which Climalene has been added.
It is equally effective in cleaning the stove and sink. Just sprinkle a little on a damp cloth. No need to use harsh gritty cleansers and scouring powders. In addition it leaves the hands soft and white.

Sold by all grocers in 12 oz. and 2 lb. packages

A COMPULSORY INSURANCE

Automobile owners have been taxed and threatened with taxes so long and so heavily that doting out new forms of torture in this respect has become a popular indoor and outdoor sport. Many good measures have been passed by legislatures and local governing bodies and many bad ones likewise have found their way into being, much to the disgust of the general public.

When one drives over a paved road on a nice Sunday afternoon thru the busy streets and witness the careless handling of motor equipment, he realizes that there are still some needed reforms which have not yet been enacted. One of these is property damage insurance which should be compulsory on every motor vehicle before it is allowed to operate on public streets or highways.

If every individual were financially responsible, there would be no need for such insurance if each elected to pay for the damage to property of others. But unfortunately every owner of automobiles is not financially able to pay for the damage he might do to other cars or property.

It is a bad condition when it is possible for careless individuals to endanger life and property of others and have no responsibility other than that which exists under our general laws, an insignificant matter if the one who is at fault is execution proof.

Almost every really responsible automobile owner carries property damage on his machine. It costs little for a term of a year. If it is good for the man who would be able to pay $100 or $1,000 for damage to property of others if he were at fault, why would it not be a good thing as a general application?

We would favor a law making such insurance compulsory with regulations that a receipt for it would be necessary before a state license could be obtained. Of course, it would be necessary for the insurance companies to place restrictions that would tend to keep down carelessness, such as a cancellation clause if the holder of a policy were convicted of carelessness or driving while drunk in a regularly constituted court a stipulated number of times.

Such a clause would tend to keep drivers in check for it would afford a double liability of having their right to drive cars taken from them.

This type of insurance is a matter that motor clubs might well look into with a view of recommending it to lawmakers.

THE FARMER AS A CHEMIST

Science now can take a ton of straw and turn it into 10,000 cubic feet of gas for lighting the home and cooking meals. In addition the straw yields such byproducts as 10 gallons of tar, 625 pounds of carbon, ammonia, etc.

This is announced by the National Department of Agriculture. However, it cautions, the straw-converting machine is not yet practical enough for farm use. But there's hope.

The farmer of the future will be a laboratory chemist. You realize the tendency that way when you compare modern farming with the past.

FAVORITE PERFUMES

Lilac has become the favorite American perfume, outselling all others. Jasmine is second in popularity among women. delicate violet third.

Musk and other violent perfumes have lost favor. They were invented originally to conceal the wearer's need of a bath, back in the days before running water and modern plumbing.

The greatest advance toward real civilization in the last few generations has been in bodily cleanliness.

One sign of spring is motorists detouring marble games.

Fighting in Mexico has slackened a little, but Americans didn't have time to worry over it, anyway.

A censor for radio is suggested. If he will eliminate the cat in his we approve heartily.

Happiness isn't scarce. It just isn't being used much.

Another sure sign of spring is when you wonder if you hear a saw mill or a mosquito.

Honesty pays in the long run while dishonesty usually pays in a short run and a swift one.

A group of senators plan a trip thru our national forests, and you can't blame them for taking to the tall and uncut.

It's a great life if you don't get spring fever, or if you do.

HOW NOT TO HANDLE WOUNDS

For this lesson, No. 11 in the course on the medicine cupboard we are giving Tuesdays and Fridays, when it doesn't rain, we are offering some practical pointers on the home treatment of first aid care of minor wounds.

The safety first rule which must be borne constantly in mind in dealing with any kind of wound is: Don't touch anything. That is simple enough for almost anybody to remember, but few laymen can carry it out in practice to a degree consistent with the requirements of modern asepsis or surgical cleanliness. Probably the greater share of trouble from infected wounds and retarded healing is directly due to the almost uncontrollable penchant the victim or first aid volunteer has for putting his fingers on the wound or on something which is to come in contact with the wound. Even when a surgeon is on hand and striving to procure an aseptic environment he must keep an incessant watch on the patient and the patient's friends to see to it that nobody sticks his fingers into things. Many an elaborate aseptic effort is set at naught by the mischievous or surreptitious touch of a curious finger, which amounts to planting a colony of bacteria in the wound unless that finger has been very vigorously scrubbed for the adventure.

A simple dry dressing is best for all fresh wounds, except where raw surface is exposed, when a bit of sterile petroleum jelly may be squeezed from a tube directly upon the wound or upon the fold of gauze which is to cover the wound. There is no salve or ointment or medicament of any description more certain than this simple emollient and protective dressing of petroleum jelly (soft petrolatum) will; so there need be no question as to what to put on a fresh wound. For certain older lesions, and for burns, the ointment to be described in a subsequent lesson is more comforting than plain petrolatum.

The gauze pad or compress should be removed from its envelope or carton with great care to protect it from contact with fingers or any object until it is applied to the wound. Never apply cotton directly upon a wound or raw surface without some protective material next to the skin. But a layer of cotton over the gauze pad or compress, and then bandage snugly but not tightly applied, completes the ideal first aid dressing. No mysterious salves, impressive odors or fireworks are required.

If a cut or wound gapes it should be drawn together and held closely by means of carefully applied strips of adhesive plaster. The cutting or tearing of the adhesive strips and their effective fixation to the wound requires exquisite pains lest you put your finger on it. Of course the skin surface must be dry and free from petrolatum or other oily substance, to hold the plaster.

With a few exceptions which we will refer to later, minor wounds may be considered sterile unless they become infected thru contact with unclean objects. Therefore, once you've satisfied the rule of iodine swabbing and applied an appropriate dressing it is best to allow that dressing to remain undisturbed for a week or more if possible for nothing we can do to a clean wound will hasten the natural healing process and there are many number of things a layman can do to retard the healing.

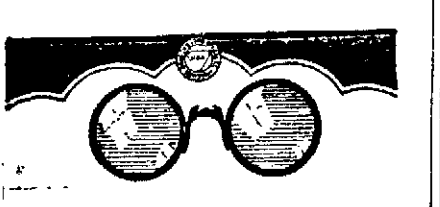

So we've emphasized two rules for first aid dressing: (1) Keep your fingers out of it. (2) Let it alone.

Read Mt. 13:31-4. Text: 18:35.
The kingdom of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took, and hid in three measures of meal, till it was all leavened.
The significant thing is that the religious experience of Jesus was being continued within the precincts of his human relationships. This was being accomplished not simply thru the remembrance of his career in Galilee, a little later perpetuated in historical Gospel records, but thru his continued personal contact with human life.
MEDITATION: As Jesus was able to communicate to his disciples the nature of his divine life so that they too became partakers of God's grace promises of immortality, so has His Spirit during the years led countless thousands into life eternal. This spirit ever allures the souls of men to enter the daily practice of immortality.
PERSONAL QUESTION: Does the restlessness and dissatisfaction of the present help me to a better future?
PRAYER: Almighty God, may we be like-minded with Christ, that we may with confidence seek to do thy will. Let us take our daily duties in the spirit of love, that we may learn of thee. May our eyes be turned towards thee and our quest be of the eternal, in Christ's name. Amen.

his risqué tales were of the new Radio brand, which I understand not at all. The other professors laughed heartily. Something about a cultured lady from west Tennessee and her little boy, Willie. Whom she would not permit to say "ain't." You mayhap have heard the tale.

On the street, and in the tobacco dens, the discourse nowadays is about taxes. Assessments for more Bull-Lites did it. Many believing, as like a dolt did I, that the light bills were $57 a year. Howbeit, that's for putting in the poles, and the upkeep will come later.

Over in Cleveland they've organized a Protest-Against-Taxes club. And will boom the postal receipts. With communiques to Councils, city commissions and even Congress. Much good it will do. We're in a get the other fellow age. And the old court adage that a man is innocent until proven guilty. Has been changed to guilty as hell, before the ink dries on the papers.

At noon, home to lunch. My wife, poor wretch, advising Vick's for a frynd, with a year in bed. Albert, the patient wanted to know who would get the meals. A small matter, which even a trained nurse won't do. These young bucks, balancing on the marriage license pro-

So, after much work, and little pay, to Lima Club. Seeing there all the tired business men, headed by Charlie Killen, the stone cracker, and McSeur Bingham, running a $51,000,000 corporation on a news-boy's income.

THE WAR ON WINTER

Spring calls them to the colors, the tulips, red and white. In uniforms and splendor, they'll rally over night. Ten million dandelions are rising at her call. And soon the morning glories will scale the garden well.

The war on Tyrant Winter already has begun. Its outposts are beleaguered by the forces of the sun. And now on hill and valley the troops of spring recruit. And everywhere around us the buds prepare to shoot.

The robins hurry northward, obeying Spring's command. To spy on winter's trenches and scout the frozen land: The daffodils are waiting to storm with yellow flame. And regiments of beauty the field which snowdrifts claim.

With banners proudly waving the hyacinths will come. The violets following after to bugle and to drum: And soon ten million blossoms will waken us with a shout. And tell that Spring has conquered and Winter's driven out.

THEATRE DIRECTORY

FAUROT—The "North Begins" with "Flowing Gold" which opened Monday at the Sigma theatre offers real entertainment. You are certain to enjoy this well directed and well produced story of the Texas oil fields.

FAUROT—A Rex Beach story, typically American and intensely human. It concerns a family of impoverished Texas pioneers who strike oil in great quantities on the old farm. Calvin, played by Milton Sills, a penniless soldier of fortune, becomes interested in the family and guides them thru the hectic period of their opulence.

Anna Q. Nilsson, as Allegheny, the awkward daughter of the family, is most capable and gives a charming performance. Other members of the cast are Alice Calhoun, Crawford Kent, and Charles Sellen.

There is a great deal of pleasing comedy in the story which is well handled. There is also a notable fight scene in a handsome hotel suite. The climax of the picture comes in a most bewildering fashion as a combination storm, fire and flood interspersed with thrills of all kinds. An entire oil field is consumed by fire caused by lightning, and the valley below becomes a flood of water and blazing oil.

"Flowing Gold" has everything needed to make a most delightful picture. It is preceded by a comedy and fun from the Pies.

At the Lyric

"Where the North Begins," a story of the northern woods, featuring the trained police dog, Rin-tin-tin, is the Lyric's attraction for the last times today. Claire Adams, Walter McGrath and Pat Hartigan are the principal roles.

Starting Wednesday for three days, the Lyric will flash an adaptation of Booth Tarkington's popular comedy, "Gentle Julia." The name of Booth Tarkington on a book or play is a guarantee that the story is the highest grade in its delineation of humanity, also that it will be as entertaining.

Bessie Love portrays the title role—that of Julia Atwater, a small town belle who has won every eye of her acquaintances. Too out-heated to turn them down, she is even more cruel, unconsciously, being kind to every one. Then long comes a breezy man from Chicago and Julia herself falls in love.

But she discovers that he is a married man interested only in a business deal with her father. Her idyllic sweetheart, Noble Bill, has given up hope and is just about to leave for adventures in the great unknown when she comes home.

In addition to Bessie Love, the cast includes Harold Goodwin, Frank Elliott, Mary Arthur and Ed Johnson.

2 WIVES SEEKING FREEDOM

Divorce Actions Are Filed As Result of Disillusionment

Two Lima wives disillusioned by trials of marital existence sought freedom thru Allen-co courts Tuesday.

Mrs. Rosetta Lease, 375 Murphy-st., charged in a petition that Alex Lease, 115 E. Pearl-st., has a raving temper and when angry created great havoc in the home. He smashed furniture and dishes right and left in his ire, she says.

In habits he was quite intemperate, coming home on frequent occasions, and sometimes not able to get there at all, the petition alleges.

Police, according to the plaintiff, arrested the defendant during January when they raided a night life resort in E. Wayne-st. The defendant, she charges, was associating with habitués of the place.

Restoration of her former name Rose Settlement is sought. The two were married in 1922, and have one son, Ralph, 21.

Mistreatment, neglect and association with wild women are charges incorporated in a petition filed by Mrs. Ruth Haynes, naming Earl B. Haynes, defendant.

The two were married in 1919 and parted a year ago. The wife asks to be restored to her former name Ruth Miller.

HURT IN ACCIDENT

OBERLIN, Ohio—One man was injured slightly when a Cleveland-Toledo bus carrying three passengers and driver went into a ditch near here today, as it attempted to pass an automobile in a heavy fog.

Slight feminine touches keep this frock of silk rattle from being strictly tailored and they add immeasurably to the charm. Notice the use of bands of darker material, the monogram, and the attractive front closing of the blouse.

PRECEDENT GIVES PRINCE TITLE

Speaker Makes Eloquent Plea to Confer Added Honors

LONDON—(Associated Press)—Queen Mary, sitting beside the Archbishop of Canterbury in a crowded lecture room at University College, listened with evident pleasure to an eloquent plea for the revival of the ancient title "Prince of Scotland and Wales" for the Prince of Wales. The suggestion was made by Dr. Walter Seton, who was inaugurating a newly instituted lectureship in Scottish history, and was acknowledged by the queen with a smile and nod to the lecturer.

The speaker pointed out that although Scotland, a well-known Scottish historian, applied the title of "Prince of Scotland" to the King's eldest son as far back as 1100, it would appear doubtful whether the title existed legally before 1400. "While the prince became Prince of Wales by special creation," he said, "he became Prince of Scotland by right of birth as soon as his father became king."

Dr. Seton suggested it would create an outburst of loyal enthusiasm in Scotland if, on the occasion of the visit of the prince to Scotland, Scots were permitted to welcome and drink the health of the "Prince of Scotland and Wales," for which the precedent of centuries could be claimed.

TO OPEN FERRY SERVICE

PORT CLINTON, Ohio—Auto ferry service between Danbury and Sandusky, cutting off several miles on an automobile trip from Cleveland to Toledo will be opened April 26.

SCHOOLS ARE CLOSED BY WATERWORKS BREAKDOWN

STUEBENVILLE—Fearing an outbreak of disease if the water famine continues much longer, workmen today labored feverishly to repair broken boiler and pumps at the city water plant.

The waterworks went out of commission Sunday afternoon, causing schools and factories to close. People were forced to go to public wells and pumps to get what water they could, while firemen had to rely on chemicals.

Many persons were forced to depend entirely on rain water.

The machinery at the local waterworks is said to be entirely worn out but the city engineers expect to have it repaired by late today.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT BILL IS DEFEATED IN COMMONS

LONDON—The government's future action on the evictions question in connection with which it suffered a defeat in the house of commons yesterday is the main topic of political speculation in parliamentary circles and the press but there is as yet no indication of the course it proposes to take.

It is noteworthy that after the defeat of the government's evictions bill a similar measure introduced by Ernest Simon, Liberal, passed its second reading without opposition. The Simon bill was almost identical with the government bill with the exception of the first clause, objections to which killed the latter. This clause had to do with the reimbursement of landlords whose tenants thru unemployment are unable to pay rent.

PLAY FUND GETS GOOD START

Final Reports Will Not be Made Until Close of Campaign

Unofficial reports from the team captains in the Allen co. Child Welfare association drive for $2,000 for playgrounds are of a highly optimistic nature and indicate that the quota will be reached when the drive closes Saturday, Mrs. S. J. Williams, manager of the drive, said Tuesday. Official report will not be made until the latter part of the week, she said.

Besides striving for a common goal—the securing of 2,000 associate memberships in the association—the teams are also competing with one another to see which will obtain the greatest number of memberships and turn in the most money.

Efforts will be made to get a large number of members in the schools of the city, Mrs. Williams said.

Resolution to go on record as being heartily in favor of the drive was presented by Commissioner Jones and passed unanimously by the city commission Monday night.

TOLEDO WOMAN SPEAKER AT LUNCHEON

Mrs. J. A. Shad of Toledo, prominent church woman of this state, will be the speaker at the luncheon to be held Thursday at the Lima club. Mrs. Shad is being brought here by the Women's Auxiliary of the Christ church, Episcopal, of which Mrs. J. W. McCarty is the president.

Mrs. Shad is the educational secretary of the Women's Auxiliaries of the Episcopal church in the Toledo region and is a very interesting speaker. Her subject will be relating to "Woman's part in the Mission of the Church."

All women of the parish are asked to attend this luncheon meeting, which will be at 12:30 o'clock. Mrs. H. S. Enck, Mrs. D. R. Cantley and Mrs. McCarty are in charge of the reservations for the affair.

Mrs. Charles Crown, North Shore Drive, will entertain the members of the C. C. club at her home, Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Logsdon and daughter, Clara Mae, of Mansfield, spent the week-end with Mrs. Logsdon's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Biddle, S. Scott-st.

Mrs. I. W. Basinger will open her home, 1208 W. Market-st., Tuesday evening, for the regular monthly meeting of the members of the Unity class of the First Baptist church. An informal program will be given following the business session.

Assistant hostesses will be Mrs. Blanche Swift, Mrs. E. B. Johnson and the Misses Florence, Hazel and Mae Bok.

Miss Emily Yelton will return on Tuesday to her home in Butler, Ky., after visiting her mother, Mrs. Dorothy Yelton, S. McDonald-st.

Miss Esther Hammell and Miss Mary Sprague have returned from Ft. Wayne, Ind., where they spent several days with Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Sprague.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart: I am a reader of your column and wish for you to answer these questions for me. I am 15 years old and will be 16. I am five feet, four inches tall. How much should I weigh? What should I do to get a show with a boy or to church? There is a boy I like very well when he is with me he acts all right but when he is with some of his boy friends he hardly ever speaks. Do you think that is right? How old a boy should I go with? Do you think a boy should ask you for a kiss constantly when you have refused him so many times? Is it right to play kissing games at parties?

How long should a girl wear her skirts? Will many suits be worn this spring? What will be the color of the hats this summer? What are the meanings of the following names: Cassie, Ruth, Charles, Anna, Esther and Frances?

You should weigh about 112 pounds and be in your freshman year of high school.

Yes, I think you are too young to go about with the boys. Occasionally, to go to a school party with a boy your own age, there would be no harm but I think you are too young to think seriously of the boys. If the young man is not gentlemanly or polite enough to speak to you on the street, I'd have nothing to do with him. No, I certainly do not. If you inform the young man of your views regarding kissing he should understand and be polite enough not to speak of it again.

About 14 inches from the floor. Yes, suits are extremely popular for spring wear. Hats are of the lighter shades, such as blue, lavender, pink, jade green and yellow are good this season. Black and white hats are popular, too.

Cassie, which no doubt comes from Cassandra, means "She who inflames with love." Ruth means beauty. Charles means stout; Anna means grace. Esther means star and Frances means free.

Dear Miss Smart: Will you please answer a few questions for me?

Are polo coats going to be worn this summer? What kind of slippers will be worn? Are the slippers on the spring coats, light or loose?

Miss Smart: I will start to high school next year. Would you advise me to take Latin as I want to be a nurse? What studies would you advise me to take?

My hair is still long. I don't know whether to have it bobbed or just wear it long. What would be your advice? I have light brown hair and a light complexion. What colors could I wear best?

How is my writing for an eighth grade pupil?

May I write again?

Yes, the polo coats are very popular. Suede and patent-leather slippers are the most popular this season. The slippers are loose.

Yes, I'd advise taking Latin. It is a splendid foundation for anything. Take as much of a general course, as possible. A year or two of household arts would be profitable. I should think, if you expect to take up nursing, take another language, French or Spanish, besides your Latin.

There aren't many of us, are there, that still have long tresses? Is your hair naturally curly, or does it keep a wave a long time? That is one of the many points to be considered. Also, do you think it would be becoming for you? Bobbed hair is most handy and comfortable, especially in the summer time. No one can decide for you, "Baby," you have to do it all by yourself. Tan and brown, a coral shade, an Alice blue would be especially becoming colors for you.

Very good.

Yes, indeed, the pleasure's all

PERFUME A TELL-TALE ON AGE AND SIZE

NEW YORK—There's a new way of guessing your age and your size and your general characteristics without even taking a peep at you—just by your choice of perfume.

If you are a flapper you probably use very strong perfume, with a conscious or unconscious desire to increase your powers of personal attraction.

If you are a slender woman, and you are crawling up in years, your choice is probably for some delicate flower.

Pungent oriental odors are the universal choice of the heavy type of women.

These are some of the conclusions reached from a series of experiments in the psychology of smell, just completed by a New York department store in co-operation with A. T. Poffenberger, associate professor of psychology at Columbia University.

And the universal favorite among perfumes is found to be lilac. Here is the way the vote stood:

Women	Men
First.....Lilac	Lilac
Second.....Oriental	French
Third.....Bouquet	Bouquet
Fourth.....Jasmine	Jasmine
Fifth.....French	Oriental
Sixth.....Bouquet	Bouquet
Seventh.....Violet	Rose
Eighth.....Rose	Violet

Older men, it was learned, are not so restrained in their tastes, but voted in a body for the stronger scents. Young men voted for delicate scents.

Tastes were determined by age and size rather than type or temperament. Neither did the occupation of the individual have any influence on their choice of perfume.

Housewives, professional women and students seemed to have identically the same choices.

SHIPMENTS OF STOCK FROM OHIO FARMERS SHOW GOOD INCREASE

Shipments of hogs from Ohio farms to stockyards increased by seven per cent for the past year, according to figures given out by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Ohio department.

Cattle shipments were four per cent under 1922 and sheep declined nine per cent, according to the figures which were compiled from the records of the ten stockyards receiving the bulk of Ohio's livestock.

The number of hogs received at these principal yards was 2,855,241 for 1922. Figures for East Buffalo are not available for 1922. Omitting that point, the 1922 number was 2,858,944 as compared with 2,427,478 for the year before.

The total number of cattle shipped from farms was 216,870 or 184,327 with East Buffalo omitted. The nine yards for 1922 received 201,928 head of cattle.

Receipts of sheep were 714,726 or 576,471 when East Buffalo is left out as compared with 633,657 in 1922.

In compiling these figures only shipments direct from the country were included and re-shipments from other yards were not counted. The stockyards at Cleveland, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, East Buffalo, Toledo, Dayton, Marion, Postoria, Springfield and Columbus were included in the compilation.

HEAVY SERVANT TAX IS BEING LEVIED IN AUSTRIA

VIENNA—Tax hungry authorities have decided that in some directions they have been too lenient in the past, and that hence forward the man who can afford domestic servants must contribute more generously to the state.

It has, therefore, been ruled that the tax on the employment of more than three domestic servants in the same household be raised ten fold.

And the wealthy who have in their service more than ten domestics—there are only 60 such households in Austria—will be assessed at even a higher rate of increase. Baron Rothschild employs a total of 47 servants, and for this privilege pays a tax of $14,000.

BEGIN HERE TODAY.

Sallie Peck, employee of the Fair Deal Five & Ten, quarrels with her policeman sweetheart, Michael Cusack. At night Sallie goes into the room to take down a washing for Mr. Cusack, with whom Sallie lives. A crash shakes the earth and something strikes Sallie a blow on the head.

When she regains consciousness, the girl finds herself in strange surroundings. A French maid calls her Mrs. Cusack and Sallie Cusack, a tall, stately woman, claims her as her own daughter. Sallie meets Cousin Wheeler, who makes love to her. She claims her as her own daughter. Sallie meets Cousin Wheeler, who makes love to her. She claims her as her own daughter. Sallie meets Cousin Wheeler, who makes love to her. She claims her as her own daughter.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"I believe you!" Sallie exclaimed. "One's about as phoney as the other, eh? Did you think you were going to put that fake over on me?"

"My dear girl!" Sloat assumed a shocked expression. "That diamond is worth thousands—but how could you be expected to judge?"

"That paste rock isn't worth a tenth of what the setting cost!" she retorted, sure of her ground now. "Never mind how I know, but you come across with the real goods, understand?"

Sallie had purposely allowed a rough, hardened note to creep into her voice and Sloat sighed and shook his head as he slipped the box back into his pocket.

"You've misjudged me! There is a lady coming here today, however, who until recently owned some magnificent jewels herself and Mrs. Delapierre will tell you what this is worth."

"Mrs.—who?" It was the chance for which she had waited and Sallie rose precipitately. "Look here, I'm not going to see her! It was in the agreement that I didn't have to meet anybody!"

"Anybody not necessary to our plans, my dear Alva!" Sloat's little mustache was fairly twitching with ill-suppressed excitement. "However, Mrs. Delapierre—"

"Not me! Mrs. Cope—mother—said I didn't have to meet any of the dames who come here to call and I won't! That's flat!"

Sallie turned as if to rush from the room but he caught her by the wrist. "The idea of palming yourself off on my grandmother doesn't face you—why are you afraid to come face to face with Mrs. Delapierre? Is it because you have met before? You started when she was announced the other day, you know false diamonds from real ones at a glance—did you learn that behind the counter of a five-and-ten cent store? Woman, you are 'Diamond Bess' Hilker!"

Sloat's voice squeaked and a flush darkened his pasty cheeks. Sallie felt a hysterical impulse to laugh but instead she struggled guiltily in his grasp for a moment and then relaxed with a shrug.

"Did I ever say who I was?" she demanded. "You don't dare face that Delapierre woman with me, or the little game you've been trying to pull here will be up, and you don't dare call for the bulls for the same reason. It was you picked me out of the train wreck, remember—much obliged, I'm sure!"

"Belows!" Sloat called loudly. "Belows, did you hear? She admits it!"

The door leading from a smaller reception room opened and the attorney appeared. His hawk-like face was set in lines of almost ferocious intensity and Sallie's heart quailed at the look he bent upon her but his tone was as dryly composed as ever.

"So it appears," he remarked. "Let her go, Sloat, and lock the door. Now, young woman, suppose we come to an understanding."

"I thought we had yesterday!" Sallie retorted with a brazenness she was far from feeling. "What have I done in all this, anyway, I should like to know? I got hit on the head in a train smash-up and wake up to find myself kidnapped and brought here, with everybody in a game to call me 'Alva Copeland' and make out I'm crazy if I don't agree to it. Meantime I get news of another kind so I let that go for a day and then I ask Mrs. Copeland to wise me up to the lay. She tells me I'm this here Sarah Peck from Shaftstown, that you know all about me, and I worked in a store there. All right, I'm agreeable, and I wait to see what new moniker is going to be pinned on me. Then you explain the little trick you want me to turn here for you and I take it on, so I'm 'Alva' again. Now Mr. Sloat tries to palm off a phoney rock on me and when I call him for it he says I'm this 'Diamond Bess' somebody-or-other."

"Do you admit or deny that you are the Hilker woman?" Bellows thundered in his best court-room style.

"I don't admit or deny anything! I ain't on the stand yet, but when I am—if I am—it's going to be interesting for all concerned." Sallie smiled.

"I told you I wasn't any squealer but if you try to send me up for something else there's a few of you who'll do stretches for—what do you mouthpieces call it—attempts conspiracy with intent to defraud, ain't it?"

She had remembered a case in Shaftstown which Mike had explained to her and now she plucked up courage as she saw that the shot went home.

The attorney's lips were twisted in an unpleasant smile and his cold penetrating gaze never left her eyes. "Would you be willing to face the lady Mr. Sloat mentioned, Mrs. Louis Delapierre?"

"Would you be willing to face me with her and tell her how I got here and what I'm doing in this house?" Sallie countered swiftly, advancing toward her inquisitor. "It's a stand-off, ain't it, Mr. Bellows? A case where we've gotta treat each other, like you said yesterday? What's the odds who I am? I'll lay low and work the game on the old dame upstairs and then beat it where you'll never—"

Sloat uttered a horrified ejaculation but Bellows held up a silencing hand.

"What you propose is impossible!" he declared. "You said a moment ago that when you woke up here and were called 'Alva Copeland' you permitted the mistake to go on because in the meantime you had news of another sort. What did you mean?"

"Say, if I should happen to be this Hilker woman and there was a big reward out for me, like Mr. Sloat let on, do you s'pose I'd be traveling around the country without a pal or two trailing?" Sallie grinned. "If you say that 'Alva Copeland' proposition is off, well and good. I don't hold any grudge for being kidnapped the way I was; you just help me to make my getaway and I'll forget I was ever here so long as you all forget you ever saw me."

Sloat started forward but the attorney's manner changed suddenly. "That is a solution which had already occurred to me for as you say it is a stand-off between us. Unlock the door, Sloat. I must confer with Mrs. Copeland, of course, but I have no doubt that the matter can be arranged to our mutual satisfaction. I will send a message later to your room."

Sallie encountered no one as she mounted the stairs with a sinking foreboding at her heart. Bellows' manner had changed too suddenly at her proposition; his tones had been just a little too cordial and his desire to rid himself of her presence without discussing her, suggested getaway was significant.

Once alone in her room a fresh horror gripped her. In that conference which she had overheard Friday night between these people who held her in their hands, Dr. Quarters had declared that Sallie Peck would never come to life again and the menace in his tone, vague and subtle as it was, had sent a chill to the girl's very soul. If the innocent shopgirl who hadn't been taken into their clutches were regarding the fraud they planned to practice on a wealthy, dying woman could never be allowed to escape from their clutches what chance would a notorious crook have, who knew their scheme and was allied with a band of criminals that might attempt blackmail?

No summons came for her but Therese entered an hour later with a lunch tray. Her expression gave no hint that she knew of the events of the morning but there was a subtle sarcasm in her tone when she announced that 'Mees Alva' was served, and when the door had closed behind her Sallie approached the tray with some misgiving. Could they have doled her food in order to get her unresisting to some more secure hiding place?

As she examined it speculatively it occurred to her that there was something odd about the appearance of one of the tempting little rolls upon a plate and picking it up Sallie saw that a small hole had been neatly cut in its bottom and the piece replaced like a cap. Shakingly she tore it out and a thin spiral fold of paper followed it. Unwittingly it fell into the same awkward, hastily scrawled penciling as the note of the previous day:

"Game up. This grub o. k. but don't touch dinner. They plan trouble late tonight but I'll get you out before—"

Fitch! Sallie had forgotten all about him in the failure of her scheme but now she thought of him with a ray of hope and gratitude. Once free from the house and she felt she might take her chances on eluding his 'chief' and somehow making her way home. The little note ended abruptly as tho he had been fearful of interruption but it told her enough and she forced herself to eat heartily, mindful of the fact that none of the dinner must pass her lips and she might need all her strength later.

The long afternoon of torturing suspense passed slowly but at last dusk fell and Therese reappeared with a dinner tray.

"It have all been arranged," Mees," she remarked suddenly, pausing by the door. "There is a train at two hours after midnight and Monsieur Bellows will bring you to it. When you have finished, Madame Copeland has instructed me to convey you a traveling costume, very simple, which you may wear, and you are to keep her gift, the little string of pearls. Also Monsieur Bellows presents his compliments and begs that you will dine well for you have a long journey before you."

This Man Says the Plant Juice Does Everything That is Claimed

FEELING FINE ONCE MORE

"Your Plant Juice certainly did all for me that was claimed and I do not hesitate to publicly endorse such a medicine, said Mr. Mathew Cusack, of 172 Sixth Street, Harrison, N. J., well known employee of a large electrical manufacturing company, while talking recently with the Plant Juice Man.

"I surely was in poor health," Mr. Cusack continued. "My stomach was so disordered that my food would not digest but seemed to turn to gas in my stomach and then I would suffer badly from the heartburn. And my liver and kidneys were inactive and I had bilious attacks and headaches and would get so dizzy at times that I would almost fall over. The kidney trouble caused pains across my back and made it necessary for me to get up often at night. I was constipated, nervous, couldn't sleep and had no energy or ambition at all.

"A friend told me about Plant Juice and urged me to try it and, finally, I did so and I want to say that I could see an improvement from the first and since I have continued to take it, I surely am greatly improved. I have a good appetite and enjoy my meals and do not have gas, heartburn or any other stomach misery. My liver and kidneys work fine now and I have been relieved of the biliousness, headaches and dizzy spells and do not have the pains across my back and do not have to get up at night as I did before. My nerves are stronger; I sleep well, have new energy and a better color in my face and I have gained 10 pounds."

Plant Juice is sold in Lima at the Hunter drug stores, 49 Public Square and Main, and Wayne streets; and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office.

THE TANGLE

An Intimate Story of Inconstant Emotions Revealed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM LESLIE PRESCOTT TO JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT, CONTINUED

Jack, dear, I don't believe you will know Little Jack when you return. He seems to grow every day, and each day I find something new in him. I thank God, every hour of my life, that he is mine, mine!

There, I've told you, Jack, and you must think what you please, after the confusion you made me.

I only know one thing, and that is, I should be perfectly disconsolate and lonely if I did not have him; and having him, your absence does not mean loneliness to me. Please forgive me, dear—my time is so taken up with him that I do not miss you as much perhaps as I ought.

I want to get back to the story of my little coral god. The man seemed intensely interested, and he kept talking on and on. He told me that neither of these gods are happy, or allowed anyone else to be happy who had one of them, if they are separated. They are always hunting each other.

I told him I didn't believe the person who gave me the little trinket knew there was another. He answered I would better ask where this one had been obtained. He told me that you could not possibly give or sell one of them to a Chinese.

I don't believe any of the story of course or that the beautiful gift will bring me anything but good luck; but it is interesting, don't you think? The man said that if a person, thru some untoward event, became the possessor of one of these gods and did not know where the other one was, the thing to do was to throw it into a stream of running water, for it seems the sculptor who made them always did this, and they floated about until they found each other in the sea.

I looked rather skeptical at this, and the man said not one of these little carved gods had been found in modern times except by divers in the sea off the coast of China, and a diver having found one always looked for the other. If he could not find it, after a lapse of a month or two, he threw the one he had back into the sea.

Tell Syd I'm perfectly satisfied with the little love-god, and I'm glad to make him so happy that he'll never care whether he finds his mate or not. The man said, when I told him this, that I could not help myself—that these little twin pagan deities would find each other in spite of anything I could do, and he added:

"Your specimen is particularly wonderful, madam. I have never seen a finer. If you decide to keep it, it is to be hoped your husband will find the other."

Ask Syd, dear, if he has heard the tradition, and did he ever see two of them. I think it's very interesting. What would you do, dear, if you knew some man was hunting me all over this earth because I had his twin god, and that I would be perfectly miserable until I found him either in this incarnation or some other?

It's a queer idea for modern minds, isn't it? Tell Syd I'm going to wear it anyway—all the time. And in the meantime I shall hope that I will not be so entirely unhappy that I cannot enjoy my life with you, at least part of the time.

Here comes Ruth. Will finish this letter after she goes.

BABE RUTH & CO. IS FAVORED TO WIN AMERICAN RACE

AS A MATTER OF FACT

Being a Criticism of the Just and the Unjust in the World of Professional and Amateur Sports
BY HARVEY BROADWAY

To hold the exalted title of champion of the world for a minute is more than most boxers can lay title to, but so far as Hugh McGinnis is concerned it's an absolute fact.

The story is worth telling. Hugh McGinnis, Kid Robert or as he was baptized Hugh McGinty, was not only one of the best boxers that Kentucky ever produced—he was born near Lexington—but one of the cleverest that this country ever recorded among the distinguished knights of the squared circle; and a tough nut to crack. If one would but follow the ring history of this individual, he'd be forced to admit that they simply didn't make them any harder.

During a career extending over a period of twelve years he fought for a single minute has to do with himself, about all the best of his class in Lexington, October 6, 1909, and he was never averse to coming out of the ring in a state of beautiful health. I can remember of seeing him in the ring, and he was always a good fighter. If you will but turn to him whom he won a newspaper delivered you will note it is marked on. Frank Klaus, Billy Berger, down as a draw.

HART WON TITLE FROM ROOT.

Some time previous to this Jim Jeffries had retired from the ring and had nominated Jack Root and Marvin Hart as his successors with the proviso that they fight it out for the title. This they did at Reno, July 3, 1905, and Hart beat the Chicago boy. He was, consequently, world's heavyweight champion.

The battle with Hart occurred in the Grand Opera house in Lexington. The referee was one Jimmy Doyle. There are many who will still remember him for his striking likeness to William Jennings Bryan. It was one of those puzzling affairs. Hart was always a terrific puncher, not perhaps very clever on points, but a fellow who bored in and won because he could give and take more punishment than the other fellow. He was terribly handicapped so far as weight was concerned—he weighed at that time about 165 pounds. But he was just as game as Hart and like his illustrious opponent a glutton for punishment.

They went at it hammer and tongs—it was only a six round affair—and before the end both boys were considerably punished; but no matter how hard Hart fought it was impossible to put his challenger out; and it was noticeable that Hart was getting all the best of it so far as points were concerned, and the crowd were willing like demons and all of them for McGinnis.

At the end of the scrap the referee unhesitatingly gave the decision to McGinnis.

"What's that," yelled Hart, trying to make himself heard above the frantic, yelling crowd. "I declare McGinnis the winner on points," he's outboxed you in every round," yelled the redoubtable Doyle.

"He has, has he," and Hart came at the referee as tho he would knock his head off. Poor Doyle was between the devil and the deep sea.

He saw Hart coming towards him with blood in his eye and believing that desperation was the better part of valor, threw his right hand in the air and shouted with all his might, "On second consideration I declare this bout a draw."

McGinnis had been champion for just one minute.

BENNY EXPOSTULATES

I see where they are bringing the gorgeous Carpentier back again this summer. The French top—almost wrote it flop—is going to battle Tunney and Gibbons and it wouldn't surprise me any to see him get whipped in the order named, and yet Georges undoubtedly expects to make a pleasure trip of it this time. At least he won't have to stand up in front of one of Dempsey's fists.

There are a lot of ways to die, but some are more horrible than others. Anybody with a well-developed sense of humor can laugh off the kind of whippings Gibbons and Tunney hand out, but when Dempsey throws one from the back of the house you might just as well bring in the widow and children and leave them with their dearly beloved.

I'm kind of eager to see what sort of reception the natives give the Gorgeous One this time. When he came over before to see if it was true that Dempsey was walking poison the whole country worked itself into a state of seething hysteria. From all the excitement you might have thought that some actress had refused to have her picture taken by the ship's cameraman.

All the gal writers in the newspaper game wrote pieces about his Grecian profile, the big league artists painted him in oils and the Biddies of Philly threw a swagger feed for him. They played him up as being everything but a prizefighter—and as matters turned out they were right.

Carpentier hasn't been the carefree, buoyant soul of old since the authorities persuaded dear old Joe Beckett to do his sleeping at home instead of in the ring. Beckett used to be the most valuable asset Carpentier had. No matter how badly things were breaking for Carp he could always depend on Beckett coming thru for him with a quick and convincing dive in the first round.

This would invariably restore the Frenchman to the higher levels of popularity. That always gave me a gruff grunt. They'd say, "Well, he must have something, he stopped Beckett with a punch, didn't he?" As if that was any trick! All you ever had to do to stop that soft shoe dancer was to START a punch.

Willie Hoppe Will Defend His Crown

NEW YORK — For the third time since he retained the world's 152 lb. billiard championship in the International tournament last year, Willie Hoppe will be called upon to defend his crown in a match beginning Tuesday and continuing Wednesday and Thursday night against Edouard Horremans of Belgium at the Hotel Pennsylvania. The match will be for 1,500 points, blocks of 500 being played each night.

If Hoppe defeats Horremans he will not have to defend his title again until the 1924 international tournament.

The New York Giants celebrated John McGraw's fifty-first birthday, Monday by winning their fifth consecutive game, a 3 to 2 verdict over the White Sox at Chattanooga. George Kelly and Hank Gowdy hit home runs. The Robins were sacrificed for a 17 to 4 Yankee lullaby at Knoxville, Tenn.

Confirming Manager Dave Bancroft's opinion that the Boston Nationals would have hitting as soon as they took the road, the Braves yesterday routed Reading of the International League 13 to 6 at Albany, Ga., scoring 18 hits and driving seven homers.

ASHTABULA — Joe Reber, Cleveland, and Lou Redell, Pittsburgh, boxed a ten round draw.

TOLEDO — Able Goldstein, New York, bantamweight champion, won a decision over Tommy Murphy, Philadelphia, in a 12 round go here.

BUFFALO — Paul Berlenbach, New York, knocked out Jack Stone of Yorkers, in fifth round of scheduled 12 round bout.

TROY, N. Y. — Bluskey Graham, Utah, knocked out Pat Zieve, bantamweight champion of the United States, in ninth round of scheduled 12 round go.

ZANESVILLE — John Klesch, Cleveland, outpointed George P. O'Brien, New Castle, Pa., in 12 round bout.

Indian Grid Star Wants A Try

LAWRENCE, Kan. — (Associated Press) — John Levi, Haskell Indian football star, picked as All-American fullback on many selections last fall, will attempt to win a berth on the American Olympic team which will compete in Paris next summer.

The greatest Arapaho braver regarded the greatest Indian athlete since the days of Jim Thorpe, will enter the preliminary Olympic tryouts at the University of Kansas stadium, May 30 and 31.

Levi will enter the decathlon, instead of any single event. Coach Frank McDonald believes his experience on the track and his strength will enable him to make a good showing in the events of the decathlon.

The Indian has carried his 200 pounds of brawn over the 120 yard high hurdles in 0:15.2-5; over the 220 yard low hurdles in 0:25.2-5 and has high jumped 6 feet. He has put the 16 pound shot 43 feet 7-1-2 inches, and thrown the discus 136 feet 8 inches. He has scored first in intercollegiate in the javelin and is a fairly first quarter and a half miler, altho he has never competed in these events. He has treated track competition as an "athletic sideline."

"Big Jaw" will have his first taste of fast track competition in all-around events April 25, when he will participate in the pentathlon in the Penn relays.

During previous track seasons the Indian star has devoted his energy and time chiefly to spring football practice and to baseball, entering practically all intercollegiate meets with the scantiest of training and often with no training whatever.

He will concentrate on the events of the decathlon alone, spending but little time on spring football practice and baseball. The coaches believe that by so doing he can better his records to a marked degree.

Levi so greatly values his amateur standing that he refuses offers to try-out with several major league teams this spring, among them the New York Yankees, in order that he might be eligible for the Olympic games and for football next fall.

The big Indian is in his early twenties. He intends to return to the gridiron next season.

BOXING COMMISH MEETS

TOLEDO — Boxers who take part in exhibitions in Ohio in the future may make their agreements on a uniform contract and work under a codified set of rules according to a resolution adopted today by the Ohio State Association of boxing commissions in session here.

The matter was referred to the executive committee for investigation by president Allen W. Bahr of Cincinnati.

It was also decided to have each commission make a detailed report on fights held under its supervision. These reports will be sent to all the members. It is believed that this system will aid greatly in stopping unsatisfactory bouts.

The commissioners also voted their support to the National Boxing Association in its refusal to recognize suspensions made by commissions in New York, New Jersey and Massachusetts. They also favored the repeal of the fight film transportation law and the enactment of a censorship law to cover fight films.

Forty delegates, representing nearly all of the member cities, were present at the business session and banquet at the Elks' club, the guests of the local commission at the Goldstein-Murray fight at the Coliseum.

The next semi-annual meeting of the association was awarded to Akron, O. It will be held the first Monday in October.

HUGGINS STANDING PAT WITH WORLD'S CHAMPS

(BY HENRY L. FARRELL)
NEW YORK — (United Press) — With no changes in the team that has won the American League championship three times running, (the New York Yanks are better fixed perhaps, for the 1924 race than they were last year.

The team ought to be improved by the acquisition of confidence from their decisive victory over the Giants in the world's series and by the improvement that experience might be counted to have brought about in several young pitchers.

The real power of the Yankee club can be realized from the fact that the club has a $50,000 ball player, Earl Combs, who may not be able to break into the line-up. Combs is an outfielder and his only chance for a regular job is to beat out Whitely Witt for the place in centerfield. With Pipp, Ward, Scott and Dugan the Yanks have one of the best infield combinations in the major leagues. Pipp is one of the finest players in baseball and it is only a meek, retiring disposition that has prevented him from getting the credit that is due a player of his ability.

NEW YORK—(Associated Press)—Reactionary price movements predominated at the opening of today's stock market. Selling pressure was resumed against steel shares and a wide assortment of other speculative industrial favorites, including American Can, Baldwin and Chandler, all of which yielded fractionally on initial sales.

Prices steadied after the first batch of selling orders had been disposed of. Railroad shares again came moving up one point to 132 3/8; Missouri Pacific preferred advancing 1/8 to 42 1/8 and the common gaining 1/2 to 1 1/2, all at new high records for the year. Public Utilities also showed independent strength, American Water Works rising one point to 45, a new 1924 top. Wills-Overland preferred was in supply, touching a new year's low at 75 5/8, off 2, while Crucible Steel, Corn Products and Mack Truck dropped 1/2 to 1 1/2 points. Foreign exchanges opened steady.

Reactivity trading characterized the morning session with the principal activity taking place in the independent steel shares which were reactionary and the rails, which showed a rising tendency. Vanadium Steel broke 3 1/4 points to 22 and Gulf States Steel slipped 1 1/8 to 70 1/8, each at new minimum prices for the year. Davison Chemical, South Porto Rican Sugar and Wills-Overland preferred extended their early gains to two points or more. Louisville and Nashville and Texas and Pacific each moved up about a point, the former touching a new top at 93 3/8. American Water Works issues continued strong, the common extending its early gain to 2 1/4 points and the 7 percent preferred climbing one, each at their best prices of the year. Call money opened at 5 per cent.

SCHOOL BUS QUESTION TO BE STUDIED BY BOARD

Unanimous agreement to formulate the next regular meeting of the board of education on the question of regulations in the licensing of drivers conveying school children to and from county schools and homes was made at the bi-monthly meeting of the Allen County Board of Education Monday afternoon at Memorial hall.

Agreement also was made to appoint local boards of education of the intentions and future actions of the county board.

Applications for drivers' licenses will be issued by the county board and will be required to appear before the board at some time during the year prior to September 1. Then they must establish their qualifications and satisfy the county board of their eligibility and fitness to receive such drivers' licenses.

Other business of a routine nature was disposed of at the meeting. All the members of the board were present.

DREAM MAY BRING BACK MISSING TOLEDO CHILD

TOLEDO—A dream that her 14-year-old daughter, missing since Monday noon, had been taken away by a woman roomer, so preyed upon the mind of Mrs. Josephine O'Brien, that early today she is said to have confronted the woman and compelled her to admit that she and two men had taken the girl to Detroit and left her.

Police and the girl's parents went to Detroit today in search for the roomer. The girl was last seen at her home in Lima, Mich., to live. Her parents have been made.
